NOTES OF THE MONTH.

The fine old English customs incident to Christmastide usually extend far into this month, and among the upper and middle classes, the frequent gatherings of friends and families around the blazing hearth, give zest to the holiday evenings, and afford abundant occupation to the good housewife.

The public amusements of January in Cheltenham are confined to the Winter Subscription Balls, which take place at the Assembly Rooms every Monday evening, commencing at nine, and terminating at twelve o'clock. The Master of the Ceremonies Winter Ball will take place on Monday the 27th of the month.

Lord Segrave's fox hounds hunt the neighbourhood during the whole of the month, and the Cheltenham stag hounds are out as often as the weather and the arrangements of the sporting circles will admit of.

The Literary and Philosophical Society have public lectures every Tuesday evening, and frequently oftener, throughout this month.

At the Pump Rooms and Spas all is silent—the water drinkers being few and far between.

The prevailing winds in the month of January, taking the average of the seven years from 1833 to 1839 inclusive, as a criterion, are S.E. and S.W., the latter generally predominating.

The mean of the thermometer during January, taking the average mean of the seven years ending 1839 as a criterion, is 37.587. The mean of the year 1839 was 37.451, and the range 25.5.

The January mean of the barometer, taking the same period as the average, is 29.721. The mean of 1839 was 29.653, and the range of the same year 1.51.

The quantity of rain which fell in January, 1839, was 1.95 inches. The mean of the previous seven years gives 2.174 as the average of the month, but as this includes the very wet January of 1834 it is considerably more than would be the result had the January of any other year been taken into the estimate.

NOTES OF THE MONTH.

The Spas are but little frequented, most of those who drink the waters preferring to do so at their own homes—the promenades and walks presenting few inducements to fasting exercise. Occasionally, it is true, a fine morning will determine a few early risers on "a walk to the Wells," just to see if any thing be stirring there. About the 10th of the month, a small band of four instruments generally commences its performances at the Montpellier Pump Room, which is the first "hint" of the departure of winter.

The public amusements of the month are confined to the balls at the Assembly Rooms, unless it should so chance that some sanguine professor should speculate on the chances of occasional concerts.

The sports of the field afford occupation to those whose steeds and courage dare venture to hold with the stag hounds, which are generally out whenever the ground will warrant the hope and prospect of a chase, a result not always to be depended upon, as the "Nimrods" and "Cravens" of the field well know, in February.

The prevalent winds appear to be S.E. and S.W. The average of the seven years ending 1839, shows the latter wind to predominate in the proportion of two to one over the winds from any other point of the compass.

The mean of the thermometer in February may be taken at 40.361, according to the average of the seven years selected for calculation and comparison. The mean of February 1839 was 29.535. The extreme range 29.0.

The mean of the barometer will be 39.697. The mean of Feb. 1839 was 29.688; the range, 1.04.

The quantity of rain may be estimated at 3.553 inches, that being the average of seven years calculated from Mr. Moss's tables. The rain which fell in Cheltenham, in February, 1839, was 1.685 inches.

NOTES OF THE MONTH.

Symptoms of approaching Spring usually begin to manifest themselves this month at the Spas—many water drinkers making their appearance at the Pump Rooms whenever the mornings happen to prove sufficiently inviting for early exercise.

On the first of this month the Welshmen, resident in Cheltenham, and their friends, usually dine together, in honour of the Patron Saint of the Principality; and in the evening of the same day there is always a Concert of Welsh music at the Rotunda. In the present year, the first being Sunday, the Cambrian Festival will, of course, be celebrated on the 2nd.

The public Balls at the Assembly Rooms continue through the whole of the month.

Lord Segrave's Fox Hounds arrive in Cheltenham about the first of March, and continue to draw the covers of the neighbourhood to the end, when they return to Berkeley Castle. The Spring Steeple Chases usually take place about the latter end of this month.

The Literary and Philosophical Lectures continue as heretofore at the Institution. The Annual Meeting of the Society takes place on the second Tuesday in the month, for the election of Officers and Committee for the year ensuing.

The Board of Guardians for the Cheltenham Union are elected on the first Thursday after the 25th.

The prevailing winds of this month are south-west and north-east, the former greatly predominating.

The mean of the Thermometer in Cheltenham, in March, according to the average of the seven years ending 1839, is 41.448. The mean of this month, in 1839, was 40.524, the range 30.5.

The mean of the Barometer, taking the same average, 29.632. The mean of 1839 was 29.527—the range 0.85.

The quantity of rain which falls this month, calculating according to the average of the seven years, is 2.10 inches. The amount of rain in 1839 was 1.71 inches.

NOTES OF THE MONTH.

April in Cheltenham is peculiarly a month of preparation for the approaching season. The utmost activity generally prevails at the different summer establishments, and the Pump Rooms and Spas are special objects of attention, undergoing the processes of renovation to fit them for the reception of strangers, now rapidly thronging into the town.

The Pump Rooms are much resorted to by invalids during the whole of this month, and on fine mornings the walks and promenades are frequently enlivened with a fair array of residents and visitors, some seeking health in exercise, others in the sanative waters of the spas.

The winter balls usually terminate with that which takes place on Easter Monday, though from the lateness of Easter it is probable they may not this year be continued so long.

The spring floral and horticultural exhibition of the Cheltenham Botanical Society, and of the Pittville Association, are held at their respective establishments, about the latter end of the month, and are the gay forerunners of the merry summertide, already manifesting its approach in the gardens and hedgerows of the neighbourhood.

The Literary and Philosophical Society continues its lectures throughout the whole of the month.

The annual election of Parish Officers, Churchwardens, Overseers, &c. &c., takes place at St. Mary's Church, on Easter Tuesday. A list of the present parochial authorities will be found in the present Annuaire.

The prevailing winds are N.W. and S.W., the latter generally predominating.

The mean of the thermometer in Cheltenham in April may be taken as 45.951, and of the barometer, at 29.70. In 1839 the mean of the former was 47.21; the range 33.5; and of the latter, 29.81; the range 1.14.

The average of rain is 1.86 inches. The fall in 1839 was 1.81 inches.

NOTES OF THE MONTH.

The Cheltenham "season" commences on the first of May, though it is not until the arrival of the full summer band at the Montpellier Spa that the gaiety and animation incident thereto attract much attention. This event generally takes place about the second Monday in the month, and within a day or two the evening musical promenades also begin, the band performing from this date thrice, and sometimes even oftener, in each week, from seven to nine o'clock, as well as regularly every morning, from eight to ten o'clock. May is always considered one of the best months for taking the waters, and there is in consequence usually a large attendance, both of residents and visitors, at the different Pump Rooms. Particulars respecting these establishments, with the terms of subscription for drinking the Waters, &c., will be found under its proper head in the present volume. There is always a fete or gala of some description at the Montpellier Spa, in honour of the Queen's birth-day.

The second floral and horticultural exhibitions of the Cheltenham and Pittville Societies take place towards the latter end of the month.

The session of the Literary and Philosophical Institution concludes on the second Tuesday.

The prevailing winds are S.W. and N.E., the former greatly predominating.

The mean of the thermometer may be estimated at 53.609, of the barometer 29.746.

The mean temperature of 1839 was 51.927; the range 37.0. The mean of the barometer, 29.71, and the range 0.8.

The quantity of rain which falls in May is 1.601 inches, taking the average of seven years. In 1839 it was 0.725.

NOTES OF THE MONTH.

Cheltenham in June is frequently not so full of Company as in May, owing to many of those who arrive in the latter month, having completed their courses of the waters, taking their departure again, with renovated health, for their respective homes; in addition to which numbers of the resident families leave for the coast, or on summer excursions to the Lakes, or the mountain lands of Wales or Scotland.

The morning performances of the full military Band continue at the Montpellier Spa, as also the musical Promenades. The latter are removed towards the end of the month from the Pump Room Walk into the Gardens opposite, where, during the long evenings of summer, and when the weather is sufficiently warm, they are held in preference.

The Rotunda Balls commence either the last week in June, or the first week in July, depending upon circumstances, and continue as a fixed appointment for Thursday evenings through the season.

There will, most probably, be occasional fetes at most of the public establishments this month, and a grand Gala at the Montpellier, in celebration of her Majesty's coronation on the 28th.

The prevalent winds of June are south-west and south, the former being more than three to one in comparison with the winds of either of the other points of the compass, the south excepted.

The mean temperature is 59.054, and the mean of the Barometer 29.674. In June, 1839, the mean of the Thermometer was 59.624, and the range 30.5. The mean of the Barometer 29.629, and the range 30.5. The mean of the Barometer 29.629, and the range 0.96.

The average rain is 3.21 inches—the rain of last June was, however, 6.26.

NOTES OF THE MONTH.

Of late years, owing to the protraction of the London season so far into the summer, the influx of metropolitan fashionables into Cheltenham has rarely taken place, at least not to any considerable extent, until nearly the middle of July. About this time, however, the waning gaieties of the Court disperse over the country the aristocracy of the land, and cause a great increase in the number of our visitors. The established amusements peculiar to this favourite resort are all in full operation, and afford ceaseless opportunities of delightful pastime and healthy exercise. The attendance of water drinkers at the various Spas, and promenaders on the walks, impart an air of great cheerfulness and animation to the mornings, heightened and enhanced by the performances of the bands, which take place regularly from eight to ten o'clock. And in the evenings the Musical Promenades at the Montpellier attract to the Gardens and Walks of that establishment all the rank, beauty, and fashion of the place, presenting such scenes of gaiety and delight as are quite unrivalled.

The Summer Balls take place every Thursday evening, commencing at half-past eight o'clock, and terminating at half-past eleven.

There are usually Floral and Horticultural Exhibitions, Morning Concerts, and Evening Galas, with a variety of other fetes and entertainments in this month, for the times and particulars of which the advertisements of the day must be consulted.

The prevailing winds of July are south-west and west.

The mean temperature is 61.1, and the mean of the Barometer 29.713. In 1839 the mean of the Thermometer was 60.3, and the range 22.0. The Barometer mean 29.620, and the range 1.02.

The average quantity of rain that falls in this month is 3.583 inches. In the July of 1839 it was 4.005 inches.

NOTES OF THE MONTH.

The Cheltenham Season is at its zenith in August. The town is full of company, and the constant succession and diversity of the amusements which present themselves engaging the attention and diverting the thoughts of the visitors, keep the place quite alive. The promenades and walks are constantly thronged with strangers, and the rides and drives with groups of fair equestrians, and gay and dashing equipages.

The Gardens of the various Spas are much resorted to during the day, and afford delightful sources of recreation to those who take pleasure in contemplating the floral beauties of creation. The Zoological Gardens in the Park are also, at this season of the year, peculiarly deserving attention, for besides the "animal" wonders which they contain, the walks and landscape undulations of the scene render them objects of peculiar admiration. They are open to visitors every day, except Sundays, from 10 A.M. to dusk.

The public amusements of August are a continuation of those particularized in the notes of the previous month. In addition to which there are also occasional entertainments, such as Concerts, Public Breakfasts, &c. ; and from the success which attended the celebration, on the 8th of August 1838, of the Centenary of the establishment of the Spas, it is highly probable that a repetition of the amusements, when then took place, will, on the same day be repeated through future years, at one or other of the Spas.

The winds most prevalent in August blow from the W. and S.W.

The mean of the Thermometer may be taken at 59.6727, and that of the Barometer at 29.711. In August, 1838, the Thermometer mean was 58.895, the Barometer 29.726, and the range of the former 29.0, and of the latter 1.25.

The average rain is 2.72, inches. In 1839, the quantity was 2.695 inches.

NOTES OF THE MONTH.

September, like its precursor, is a month of uniform gaiety in Cheltenham. The same rapid succession of elegant amusements takes place, upon which the constant changes in the company who frequent them, confer all the charms of attractive novelty.

Towards the middle of the month the musical promenades, which down to this period have been uniformly held in the evenings, occasionally take place in the afternoons, and at the close the latter arrangement wholly prevails—the Band performing from half-past two to half-past four, instead of from seven to nine o'clock as heretofore.

The Literary and Philosophical Society generally commences its "session" this month—celebrating the anniversary of the opening of the present institution by a public meeting and dinner.

The last Floral and Horticultural exhibitions of the Cheltenham and Pittville societies take place about the latter end of the month.

The Spas are much resorted to during the whole of this month, the approach of Autumn being generally considered, next to Spring, the best time of the year for drinking the waters.

The prevailing winds of September are those which blow from the S., S.E., and S.W. The latter two being in nearly equal proportions.

The mean of the Thermometer is 55.504, and of the Barometer 29.685. The mean of the former in 1838 was 55.476—the range 27.5; and of the latter 29.701, the range being 1.3.

The average of rain that falls in Cheltenham in September, 3.108 inches; in 1839, the quantity was 3.67 inches.

[The meteorological averages for the present and following months of the year, are averages of five years only; the necessity for going to press in September, rendering it impossible to include the result of seven years as has been done for the previous eight months.—Mr. Moss's rain table not extending farther back than 1833.]

NOTES OF THE MONTH.

Indications of a closing season begin to manifest themselves early in this month. The "arrivals" cease to bear the same proportion to the "departures" which they bore in August and September—the latter now, indeed, being the more numerous of the two. It is not, however, until about the middle of the month that any sensible diminution becomes apparent in the number of those who frequent the Spas in the mornings or the Promenades in the afternoons—particularly should the weather of the first half of October prove fine. The Rotunda Balls are even better attended than in the earlier part of the season.

The afternoon musical promenades, in the Montpellier Gardens, conclude sometime between the 20th and 25th of the month, and about the same time the morning performances of the full military band at the Spa reach their termination—a movement generally considered as the closing act of the summer season.

The Philosophical Society resumes its scientific lectures at the Institution in the Promenade.

The Cheltenham Stag Hounds take the field for the first time this month, meeting twice a-week, and always within a short distance of the town.—Lord Segrave's pack are also cub hunting in the neighbourhood.

The prevailing winds of this month are S., S.E., and S.W.; the first and second blowing equally, though the last greatly predominates over either of the others.

The Thermometer mean of the five years from 1833 to 1837 inclusive, was 50.395, and the Barometer 29.771. In October 1838, the Thermometer mean was 50.428, and the Barometer 29.70; the range of the former being 29.5, and of the latter 1.35.

The average rain may be estimated at 2.937 inches. In Oct. 1838 the quantity did not, however, exceed 1.915 inches.

NOTES OF THE MONTH.

The month of November opens with a strangely altered aspect from that presented by the preceding six months. The morning and evening Promenades, those brilliant and fascinating scenes of life in Cheltenham, have been discontinued—the pleasant Balls of the Rotunda are over—and the appearances of coming winter are evident in the leaf-strewn walks, and the bared branches of the lofty elms with which the town and neighbourhood abound. The full Band of Summer has been succeeded by a smaller company of four performers, who continue playing every morning in the Montpellier Pump Room at the usual hours throughout the month.

The Winter Balls at the assembly Rooms commence early in the month, and continue every Monday evening the winter through.

Lord Segrave's Fox Hounds arrive at their Cheltenham Kennel on the 1st of November, and hunt the neighbourhood four or five times a week. The Stag Hounds are also out occasionally.

By the end of November all the visitors have taken their departure—the resident families have returned from their summer tours, and the town and its inhabitants have settled down for the winter.

The winds generally most prevalent this month are those of the S. E. and S. W.

The mean temperature, according to past results, will be 43.916; the mean of the Barometer 29.645. In November, 1838, the former was 40.06; the latter 29.555. The range of the Thermometer being 29.5, and of the Barometer, 1.89.

The results of five years rain give 2.848 inches as the average of November, though in 1838, the quantity which fell was 5.58 inches.

NOTES OF THE MONTH.

And now "concluding winter comes to close the scene." The face of nature looks bleak and cheerless—without there is little to attract attention, less to afford pleasure. The Pump Rooms and Spas, those haunts of summer gaieties, are deserted; and even the notes of the winter band are silenced. Within doors there are, indeed, "brave doings," as Christmas, with its joyous hospitalities, draws nigh. The greetings of the family circle—the rout—the ball—the evening party—night after night engage the time and attention of the wealthier portion of our inhabitants, and convert the dulllest and the darkest month of all the year into a season of cheerful festivity and bright rejoicing. The Winter Balls are the only public assemblies of December, and the sports of the field are confined to the meetings of the stag hounds—Lord Segrave's pack hunting the Berkeley country this month.

The Literary and Philosophical Society hold their weekly meetings every Tuesday evening through the greater part of this month—generally, however, suspending their lectures for a fortnight at Christmas.

The prevailing winds of December are W. and S.W., the latter greatly predominating. The S. and N.E., winds also prevail very generally.

The Thermometer mean, still calculating upon the five years ending 1837, may be stated as 41.514; and the Barometer 29.759.

The average rain of the month, estimated by the results of the years 1833 to 1837 inclusive, is 2.125 inches.

CLARENCE STREET.

POSTMASTER—Mr. G. Wall, Blenheim Villa.

The Mails for London, Oxford, and all places east of Cheltenham, leave at half past 8 a.m., and at a quarter before 8 p.m., but the letter box closes at 6 $\frac{1}{4}$ a.m. for the day mail, and at 6 p.m. for the night mail. The same mails arrive in Cheltenham at 7 in the evening, and 7 in the morning; and the letters are delivered as soon after as they can be sorted.

The Penny Post undertakes the delivery of letters in every part of the town, and extends also to the surrounding villages of Charlton, Leckhampton, Prestbury, Cleeve, &c. For the town there are two deliveries: viz. at 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ a.m., and at 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ p.m. For the surrounding villages there is only a morning delivery.

The uniform Penny Postage having commenced on the 10th of January, the arrangements dependant upon that important regulation have involved the necessity of many changes in the Cheltenham Office in common with all other places throughout the kingdom. All letters being now charged by weight instead of as heretofore according to the number of enclosures, we give below a Table of the Rates of Postage according to the scale recommended by the Lords of the Treasury.

Letters may be posted, on payment of a penny each, for one hour after the box closes; and from the expiration of that hour to the time when the bags are finally made up, on payment of twopence.

POSTAGE TABLE FOR INLAND LETTERS.

Weight	and not exceed.	Stampd or prepaid.	Unpaid.
—	oz.	0s. 1d.	0s. 2d.
$\frac{1}{2}$ oz.	1 "	0 2	0 4
1 "	2 "	0 4	0 8
2 "	3 "	0 6	1 0
3 "	4 "	0 8	1 4
4 "	5 "	0 10	1 8
And so on up to 16oz.

* * * There is no allowance for portions of an ounce over the weight of one ounce; if the weight exceeds the ounce, however trifling, it will be charged as two ounces; if it exceeds two ounces, however little, it will be charged as three ounces; and so on.

The following list of places has been selected, as indicating the principal lines of the different mails from Cheltenham, and will consequently also serve for other places on the respective routes.

In addition to the Public Institutions, Societies and Companies, enumerated in the foregoing pages, there are also a great variety of Religious and Benevolent Branch Associations—such as the Bible, Missionary, Christian Knowledge, and other similar societies; which not being identified in their objects with either the town of Cheltenham or the county of Gloucester, we have not deemed it expedient to particularize. There are likewise a number of Joint Stock Trading Companies which we have omitted in this division of the ANNUAIRE, having included most of them in the Tradesman's Directory.

STREET GUIDE.

. In the following "Guide to the Principal Streets and Detached Residences," these Houses only have been inserted which are occupied by the Resident Gentry. The Street List might have been considerably extended, had it been deemed expedient to have done so, by the introduction of such streets as are either partly tenanted or occupied by Tradespeople; but these it has been thought best, for obvious reasons, to exclude altogether from the present return.

STAGE COACHES

Leave the Plough Hotel, Royal Hotel, and the George Hotel, for most parts of the Kingdom; but as the days and times of their departure are frequently changed, being in a great measure regulated by the seasons of the year, and just now also by the times of arrival and departure of the coaches and railway trains in other towns, we have thought it best, this year, to omit the alphabetical list which we have inserted in former Annaires, from a conviction that it would frequently lead to mistakes, and could not, by any possibility, be perfectly accurate.

REGISTER OF THE ELECTORS

TO VOTE IN THE CHOICE OF A MEMBER TO SERVE IN PARLIAMENT FOR THE

BOROUGH OF CHELTENHAM,

IN THE COUNTY OF GLOUCESTER,

At any Election which shall take place between the First Day of November inclusive, in the Year 1839, and the First Day of November, 1840.

*The Largest and Cheapest Newspaper in the County.THE CHELTENHAM FREE PRESS AND STROUD INTELLIGENCER,

Is Enlarged one-third, and now contains Thirty-two Columns of closely-printed Letterpress.

PRICE ONLY FOURPENCE,

Or Five Shillings per Quarter if delivered or forwarded by Post. It is Published every Saturday Morning at the Free Press Office, 318, High Street, Cheltenham.

“ This is not the cause of Faction, or of Party, or of any Individual, but the common interest of every man in Britain.”—JUNIUS.

THE FREE PRESS circulates largely through this and the neighbouring counties, and thus affords the best advantages to the Advertiser, whose favours will be inserted on the lowest possible terms. It contains the Gazette and latest London news of Friday evening; the Markets up to Friday Night; and all intelligence of interest, whether local or general.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

“ This Paper is a fresh blow at Toryism in one of its strongholds.”—Bath Guardian.

“ A Paper on the right side.”—The News.

“ A really independent Journal, ably devoted to the cause of the people.”—Sheffield Iris.

“ A very spirited Newspaper has been going on for a few months at Cheltenham, under the name of The Cheltenham Free Press. Its principles are thoroughly liberal, and they are advocated with zeal and ability.”—Tait's Magazine.

“ The Cheltenham Free Press is a paper which has deserved well of the cause of Reform, and of all who are honestly attached to that cause. The project of its establishment reflects credit on the spirit of the publisher. The political department has been conducted with remarkable ability and energy.”—True Sun, Dec. 1836.

“ The Cheltenham Free Press, an excellent Radical paper.”—Sheffield Iris, Jan. 7, 1840.

Published every SATURDAY MORNING, at Eleven o'clock, by S. C. HARPER, 318, High Street, Cheltenham; and filed at Peel's, The Chapter, Anderton's, and the Hope, Coffee Houses; Messrs. Newtons', Warwick Square; at Mr. Barker's, 33, Fleet Street; Mr. Reynell's, Chancery Lane; and Mr. J. Deacon's, 3, Walbrook, London.

TIDMARSH & COMPANY'S
Silk, Shawl, Cloak, and Fur Establishment,
386, HIGH STREET,
Adjoining the Plough Hotel, from Regent Street, London.

This Establishment offers to Ladies and Families great advantages, the whole of the business being transacted on the London system, for READY MONEY.

The Proprietors solicit an inspection of their unequalled Stock of splendid Goods of all descriptions, comprising Silks of the best manufacture and most fashionable descriptions; Satins for slips, and dresses, in almost endless profusion; the last new designs from the Continental markets in Fancy Dresses; Shawls of all the fashionable descriptions, comprising Velvets, Cashmeres, Indiannas, Lama, Wool, and varieties of new Textures, French and English Merinoes, the new double twilled black Bombazines and Paramatta Cloths for Family Mourning, besides Linens of all kinds, warranted to the purchaser for three years' wear, to be free from blemish or the money returned: this article being of such importance to families, Messrs. T. and Co. have made arrangements so that every family shall be supplied in Cheltenham from their Establishment, upon terms which cannot fail to meet with approbation, and indeed every article sold is warranted to be genuine and quite perfect, however low the price may be.

MARKING INK.

FOR WRITING ON LINEN, &c.—REQUIRING NO PREPARATION.—Made only by

D. GIBBON,
(FROM SAVORY AND MOORE'S,)

Specially appointed Chemist to her Majesty,

Late ALDER & GIBBON, 109, HIGH STREET, opposite the Plough Hotel, CHELTENHAM.

It has long been a desideratum to lessen the trouble required to prepare Linen for Marking; this objection has been removed by D. Gibbon, who can confidently recommend his superior Ink, which is permanent, as being attended with less trouble and expense than any former preparation, and will be found to resist any attempt at eradication by washing, boiling, &c.

“ We beg to call the attention of the Ladies to a new preparation of Marking Ink, made by Mr. Gibbon, Chemist. Having tried it, we do not hesitate to recommend it as entirely superseding every other kind, and the simple manner in which it is used, must ensure a large sale.”—Cheltenham Chronicle, Oct. 23.

“ Mr Gibbon, Chemist to the Queen, has brought to perfection that great desideratum, an Ink for Marking Linen, without wetting such Linen previously with any other preparation. This prevents a great deal of trouble, besides saving half the expense. As Mr. Gibbon's Ink equally resists the action of boiling water, acids, &c., we do not doubt its use will be generally adopted.”—Chelt. Exam.

“ We have tried the Marking Ink invented by Mr. Gibbon, Chemist, of this town, and are happy to say it equals our highest expectations. So far from being effaced by the action of water, it becomes of a richer colour the oftener it is exposed to it. We heartily recommend it, and have no doubt it will soon be generally used, not only in Cheltenham but elsewhere, on account of the great saving both in time and money.”—Cheltenham Free Press.
