THE CHELTENHAM ANNUAIRE has, in the present volume, undergone considerable alterations in its plan and arrangement with the view of rendering it more generally serviceable to those who may have occasion to consult its pages. To the Directory of the Town there has, this year, been prefixed a complete list of the Magistrates and Deputy Lieutenants of Gloucestershire, and an alphabetical list of some of the principal Gentry resident in the Eastern Division of the county. The Editor is well aware that this latter is exceedingly imperfect, yet, as it forms the first attempt at the compilation of such a list, he hopes it will be received in good part, and as an earnest of a more complete performance hereafter; and in order to render it so, the Editor will feel thankful to those kind friends who will be at the trouble to point out whatever imperfections they may notice in the present Volume, or will furnish him with additions for that of the ensuing year.

That the County and Town Directories might follow each other uninterrupted by the interposition of other matter, the lists of Public Functionaries, Societies and Institutions of Cheltenham, which have heretofore preceded the Directory, have now been placed, as an Appendix, at the end, being also separately paged, and referred to accordingly in the Index which follows, and which will exhibit at a glance the contents of the Work.

MONTPELLIER LIBRARY,

Dec. 30th, 1843.

STREET GUIDE.

In the following " Guide to the Principal Streets and Detached Residences," those Houses only have been inserted which are occupied by the Resident Gentry, or are, strictly speaking, Private Houses. The list might have been considerably extended, had it been deemed expedient to have done so, by the introduction of such streets as are wholly, or for the most part, appropriated to the purposes of Trade; but, as the names of the occupants of houses thus circumstanced are generally conspicuously written up, it was felt that any other Guide to their names and addresses than that which the general Directory afforded, was scarcely, if at all necessary.

POLICE.

The Police and Constabulary forces of Cheltenham were formerly under the control and at the disposal of the local Commissioners; but since the introduction of the Rural Police into the county, the duty of watching and preserving order through the town has wholly devolved upon the newly constituted authorities—the Commissioners having disbanded the police engaged by them as now no longer necessary. The Cheltenham district, which also includes two sub-districts, having, together, a population of 45,000 souls, has assigned it to fifty-one constables or policemen. The calculated average cost of maintaining this force is £3,223. per annum.

The Public Commissioners hold their meetings at the Fleece Inn, the first Friday in every month, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of taking cognizance of all matters connected with the local government of the town—plenary powers being vested in them for that purpose by an Act of Parliament passed in the year 1821 (2nd Geo. IV.); by which Act they are also empowered to frame such bye-laws and rules as to them shall appear necessary for the peace, security, and general interests of the town. The appointment and direction of the Police and Fire Establishments,* the paving and lighting the streets and highways, the regulation and superintendence of the flies and public conveyances are, therefore, comprehended within their peculiar province. Since the establishment in 1840 of the Rural Police, the Commissioners have, however, ceded to that newly constituted power the duty and responsibility of "watch and ward," and have disbanded the constabulary and police forces formerly employed by them, and subject, of course, to their jurisdiction.

* The Engine House is situate in St. George's Terrace, and is under the superintendence of Mr. John Whitmore, Building Surveyor, St. George's Place.

RAILWAYS.

CHELTENHAM BRANCH OF THE GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY.

PRESENT STATION—Cirencester.

Up-Trains for London leave the Cirencester Station about every two hours throughout the day, and the Down-trains arrive there with corresponding frequency. Coaches in connection with these trains leave the various Offices in Cheltenham two hours before the departure of each up-train. As the hours of arrival and departure of the different trains change with the seasons, we think it best not to give the times at present advertised, as these would possibly mislead if depended upon a month or two hence.

IN ITS PAST AND PRESENT STATE,

BEING THE

Fourth Edition of the Stranger's Guide;

Enlarged by the Introduction of much Additional Information

AND ILLUSTRATED WITH NUMEROUS

LITHOGRAPHS, MAPS, AND WOOD ENGRAVINGS.

NOTICES OF THE WORK.

"Well deserves notice for the handsome style in which it is illustrated and got up, and for the talent displayed in the narrative, which relates all that is necessary to be known about the Past and Present State of the Town, and Promenades. The Woodcuts are neat and numerous, and the information not only locally useful, but generally interesting,—so that it may be read with pleasure even by those who are not fortunate enough to visit the place."—Literary Gaz., Oct. 22, 1842.

"This Work, largely and admirably illustrated, does the highest credit to the provincial press. The Author has compiled his Volume with much judgment and good taste, and issued it in a very elegant form."—Art Union, August 1.

"This Volume is a pictorial edition of a former Work by the same Author, and forms a very elegant and well-written guide-book, fitted not only for the Stranger in Cheltenham, but for the library of the Resident. Few towns in England are more worthy a volume to describe its beauties and to indicate its amusements than the garden-town of Cheltenham; and a very faithful description of all that is worthy the visitor's attention is here given in a clear and impartial manner. The Illustrations are of a very superior description, presenting an excellent representation of the most conspicuous parts of the town; and, altogether, this is a very artistically and carefully finished Work."—Atlas, August 12.

“Lord Northwick possesses one of the most valuable private collections of Paintings in Europe, embracing some of the finest specimens of ancient and modern art. This little brochure is something between a catalogue and a critique of the contents of his Lordship's Gallery. It will prove useful, in the former capacity, to visitors at Cheltenham.”—Court Journal, July 29.

PRACTICAL HINTS ON CRICKET,

FOR THE

DIRECTION AND GUIDANCE OF BEGINNERS.

BY A WYKEHAMIST.

NOTICES.

"A useful little book for persons who have advanced beyond the alphabet of the game, and wish to form a system or theory of playing, without exactly knowing how to proceed. The author seems a person of sense; and the remarks which he intersperses among his specific directions will enable the tyro to adapt his play to his own peculiarities, if he be a cricketer of reflection."—Spectator, May 13th, 1843.

"Now that the season has commenced in earnest, we would recommend to the young beginner a little Work entitled "Practical Hints on Cricket," by a Wykehamist. It is full of useful information, and embraces the Laws of Cricket as revised by the Marylebone Club."—Bell's Life, May 14th, 1843.

"This little book makes its appearance at a very opportune period, just as the lovers of the old English sports are beginning their season. These "hints" will, from this cause and their intrinsic merit, we have no doubt, find favour among those for whose benefit they are intended. They are addressed to persons who know the first rudiments, but who are not adepts at the game; and we are satisfied that the advice and information here given would, with practice, greatly facilitate expertness both in the field and at the wicket."—Gloucester Journal, May 27th, 1843.

“Fluently and elegantly written.”—Spectator, July 2, 1842.

“This book, by Mr. Lees, is a pleasant chronicle of the months ; full of wholesome prose, starred with scraps of poetry. We like it none the less, because its botanical researches contain constant references to one of the loveliest districts in England—South Wales and its neighbourhood ; the author’s general descriptions acquire thereby a local colour, which enhances their interest.”—Athenæum, No. 790.

“The auxiliaries to the leading subject so add to its interest, that the Work becomes one of pleasure as much as of instruction, and will be found agreeable to the general reader, as well as useful to the Botanist.”—Metropolitan, Nov., 1842.

“An excellent monthly guide for the collecting Botanist.”—Court Journal, July 23, 1842.

W. E. EVANS having built several Organs for the neighbourhood, and having superintended alterations to many others in the town, he is enabled to supply estimates and execute orders to any extent, having secured the services of Mr. Robert Gray, late of the firm of Gray and Son, of the New Road, London, whose knowledge and reputation in this department, is so well known as to need no comment.

Tuning and Repairing

Sheet Music.

The newest and most popular music is received from the publishers the day after publication, and also by order twice a week.

Strings.

The great inconvenience that amateurs of the Harp experience in obtaining Strings of exact size and quality, has induced W. Guitar, Violin, and Vioncello Strings prepared in the same manner or by the ring.

The Organo Harmonica.

MR. T. TAYLOR,

The celebrated and unrivalled

TEACHER OF THE HARP.

Mr. T. has no wish to draw the attention of the Nobility and Gentry to the Names of the Professors under whom he received his Musical Instructions, that course being too frequently resorted to by Teachers for the purpose of covering their own want of ability; he would rather refer, which he can in the most confident manner, to the performances of his Pupils: for instance, his son and daughters. Master TAYLOR, for years, has been considered a complete wonder in the Musical World, and now, by the common consent of all eminent Musicians, is one of the most finished Harpists in Europe; while the Misses TAYLOR each play the Harp in a chaste and masterly style. In private Families Mr. TAYLOR could also point to Pupils he has had the honour to instruct, and who are now First-rate Performers. These are proofs that cannot be offered by any other Harp Teacher in Cheltenham.

TAGART'S
FLUID
EXTRACT OF TARAXACUM, OR DANDELION.

THE acknowledged efficacy of the TARAXACUM in Liver Complaints, and in Chronic Derangements of the Stomach, together with its extensive use in medical practice, renders it an object of great importance to procure a preparation in a more convenient form than those hitherto directed. It will be found of great service in removing Obstructions of the Liver, Bilious Affections, and Sick Head-ache, at the same time it will give a tone to the Stomach and strengthen the powers of Digestion.

This Extract is prepared in a peculiar mode of evaporation by steam, at a low temperature, from the recent full-grown roots, and is warranted to be a pure concentration of the Dandelion Root, without any admixture of saccharine or other matter. To the convenience of portability, is added the advantage of its being always ready for use, and so pleasant that children will not object to, neither will it in the least degree nauseate the Stomach.

Prepared only by J. D. TAGART, Pharmaceutical and Dispensing Chemist, at his Laboratory, 387, High Street, Cheltenham.

Sold in Bottles, with Directions for Use, 3s. 6d., 6s. 6d., and 15s. each. [59]

FREEMAN'S
SWEET ESSENCE OF SENNA, THE MOST AGREEABLE PURGATIVE.

PATRONISED AND RECOMMENDED BY

THE PRESIDENTS OF THE COLLEGES OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, &c. &c.

The most agreeable, safe, and efficacious aperient for females and children, the aged and delicate, the nervous, the bilious, the habitually costive, and those suffering from difficult dentition (if ever so restless) it will give instant relief. It is peculiarly adapted for ladies during pregnancy; it contains the active principle of Senna, entirely deprived of its nauseating and griping properties, and is so peculiarly pleasant to the taste that no child will refuse to take it.

Prepared by JOHN FREEMAN, 13, Blackfriars-road, London; and Sold in bottles at 1s., 2s. 6d., 5s., 12s. 6d., and 20s. each, by J. D. TAGART, Pharmaceutical and Dispensing Chemist, 387, High Street, Cheltenham. [60]
