CHELTENHAM

CHELTENHAM is a fashionable watering place, a municipal and parliamentary borough, market and union town, the head of a petty sessional division and county court district, having bankruptcy jurisdiction; it has a district registry of the High Court of Justice and is the headquarters of the county police. For ecclesiastical purposes it is in the rural deanery and archdeaconry of Cheltenham and diocese of Gloucester. It is 94 miles by road from London, 109 by the Great Western railway via Oxford and 121 via Swindon. The Great Western railway has three stations here, that in St. James' square, which is the principal station, being near the centre of the town, which is 9 miles east-north-east from Gloucester by road and $7\frac{1}{2}$ by rail, 9 south from Tewkesbury, 15 west from Stow-on-the-Wold, 13 north-east from Stroud by road and 19 by rail, and 22 south from Worcester. The London, Midland & Scottish Railway Company has a passenger station here, in the Queen's road (Lansdown), about $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles from the centre of High street, and a goods station in the Tewkesbury road, about half a mile from the former. The Banbury and Cheltenham Direct railway, via Kingham, completed in 1886, is about 48 miles in length; it connects two of the principal sections of the Great Western railway and unites London and the Midland, Northern and Eastern counties by a shorter and more direct route from Cheltenham and the West of England. The Cheltenham and Honeybourne branch, opened in 1906, is about 21 miles in length, and connects Cheltenham and South Wales with Birmingham and Wolverhampton. The Cheltenham station on this line, called Malvern Road, was opened in 1908, and is one minute's train run and about half a mile by road from St. James' station. The Great Western railway affords direct communication with the South Western counties, via Andoversford and Cirencester. There is also a Race Course station which is open on race days only.

The Cheltenham and District Light Railway, completed in 1901 by a company, is on the overhead electric trolley system, and runs from Gloucester road (near the Lansdown station of the London, Midland and Scottish railway) to Cleeve Hill, Prestbury, Southam, Charlton Kings and Leckhampton, passing through some of the chief thoroughfares of the town.

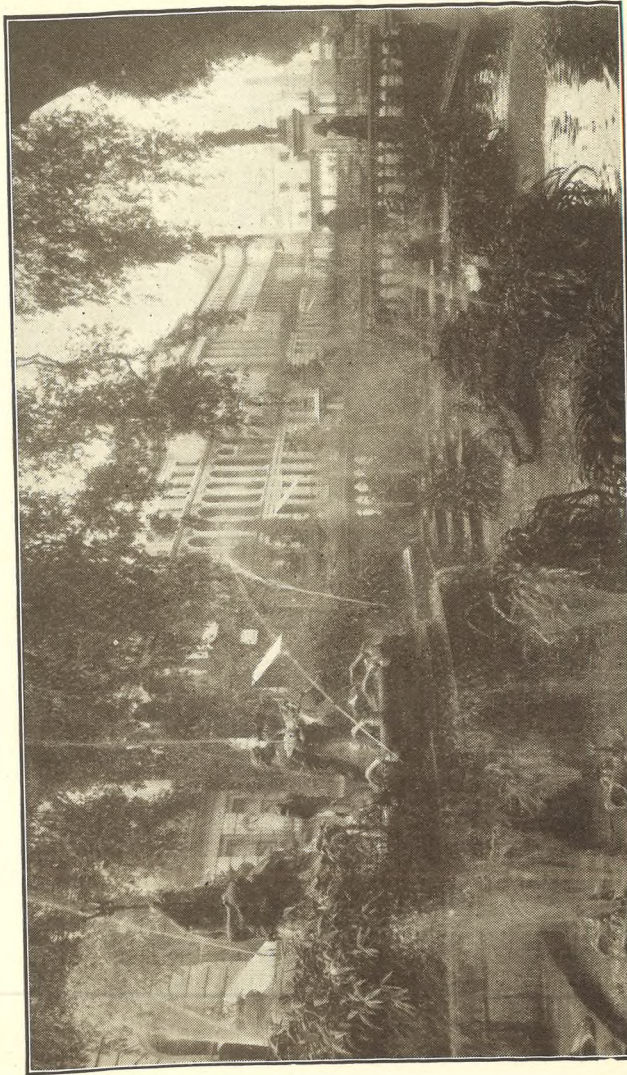

The town was unrepresented until the passing of the Reform Act, 1832 (2 and 3 Wm. IV. c. 45), under which enactment it became entitled to one member; under the Boundary Act, 1868, a portion of the parish of Leckhampton was included in the parliamentary borough, and by the Redistribution of Seats Act, 1885 (48 and 49 Vict. c. 23), so much of the parish of Charlton Kings as lies to the north of the Cheltenham and Banbury railway was added. The borough was again extended, Nov. 9, 1893, by further additions from the parishes of Leckhampton and Charlton Kings. Under the Representation of the People Act, 1918, Cheltenham still returns one member. Until 1876 the town was governed by thirty commissioners appointed under the Cheltenham Improvement Act, 1852; but under the Royal Charter of Incorporation, obtained in September, 1876, the borough has now a corporation, consisting of a mayor, deputy mayor, six aldermen and 18 councillors; the municipal borough is divided into six wards, and is co-extensive with the parish.

The town derives its name from the small river Chelt, which rises at Dowdeswell in the vicinity, and, in its course to the Severn, runs through the town, which is beautifully situated on an extensive plain, sheltered on the north and east by the Cotswold Hills, and consists of numerous fine streets, the principal of which, High street, is more than $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles in length, and contains many handsome modern buildings, interspersed with houses of more ancient date. The streets and buildings are spacious and elegant, and the Promenade, leading from the High street to Montpellier, is the most fashionable thoroughfare in the town; it extends for more than a quarter of a mile in a straight line and has a splendid avenue of fine spreading trees, with shops and terraces on either side. A pleasing feature of the town is the number of trees lining the thoroughfares, there being no less than 16 miles of tree-planted roads and streets in the borough, which is called the "Garden Town." The waterworks for the supply of water for domestic purposes, situated on the slopes of the Cotswolds, in the Dowdeswell valley, afford upwards of 1,000,000 gallons a day, and in addition a supply of unlimited quantity and high quality is obtained from the Severn at Tewkesbury. The town is lighted by electricity from works, erected in 1894, in the Arle road, the property of the corporation. Gas is supplied by a company established in 1819, from works in the Gloucester road. Extensive schemes of street improvements have been carried out in recent years by the corporation, who own the Pittville Spa and Gardens, and the Montpellier Spa, gardens, mineral wells and baths.

In 1913-16 extensive works were constructed for the disposal of the town sewage by filtration, at a cost of upwards of £40,000; the works are capable of treating 1,000,000 gallons daily, dry weather flow; new filters were added in 1926 at a cost of £15,000.

Pittville park, formally opened 25 April, 1894, includes the Pittville gardens and a lake, rowing course and recreation ground at Marle hill; the property comprises 15 acres, purchased at a cost of £2,354, but the total outlay, including excavation, bridges, boat-house and boats, was about £6,000; the length of the lake is 1,650 feet, and of the boating course 4,400 feet; the maximum width is 455 feet, and there is a total water area of $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres; the boat-house is of wood, in the style of a Swiss chalet : on the south side of the lake is an island, and at another point a waterfall, and there is now a numerous flock of water-fowl, and the lake has also been stocked with fish ; the park is agreeably diversified with clumps of trees, evergreens and flowering shrubs, and has been profusely planted with hardy flowers so as to make it a wild garden on an extensive scale.

Eleven acres of land on either side of College road were purchased in 1928 by the Corporation and laid out as an ornamental park and recreation ground. The Corporation also bought Leckhampton Hill Estate, comprising about 400 acres, for the benefit of the town.

The fountain on the Promenade, inaugurated on Monday, Oct. 30, 1893, is a graceful work in the Italian style, and includes a group in Portland stone, representing Neptune drawn by sea-horses.

The South African War Memorial, also on the Promenade, was unveiled in 1907 and includes the figure of a soldier in bronze.

In 1914 a statue in bronze, sculptured by Lady Scott, was unveiled on the Promenade as a memorial to the late Edward Adrian Wilson B.A., M.B., F.Z.S. born in Cheltenham 1872, chief of the scientific staff, artist and zoologist of the British Antarctic Expedition, 1910-1913. He reached the South Pole January 17, 1912, and died with Capt. Scott on the great ice barrier, March, 1912.

In 1914 a stone statue of King Edward VII. surmounting a drinking fountain, was erected at Montpellier, given by the late Alderman J. W. Drew and Mrs. Drew.

A massive obelisk on a base of three steps was erected in 1920-21, opposite the municipal offices, as a memorial to the 1,266 men from Cheltenham who fell in the Great War, 1914-18 : the cost of erection, about £1,800, was raised by public subscription : the unveiling ceremony was performed by Maj.-Gen. Sir Robert Fanshawe K.C.B., D.S.O. on October 1st, 1921.

Naunton Park, situated to the south-east of the town, and opened in 1894, comprises about 8 acres and is laid out as a recreation ground. There is also a recreation ground in Whaddon road.

Cheltenham has acquired its present important position from the celebrity of the mineral springs with which its soil is so abundantly charged : the waters, which are more or less saline, were accidentally discovered in the year 1716, and their medicinal virtues gradually becoming known, his Majesty George III. visited the place in 1788, an event which at once led to the establishment of the spas : the original Old Wells were established about 1738, Montpellier spa in 1818, and the Pittville spa, with its gardens and lake, in 1830.

The latter was purchased by the corporation in 1889 and has saline springs surrounded by beautiful gardens and grounds, with walks and drives planted with trees six miles in extent. The gardens were enlarged in 1901 by the corporation to the extent of 3½ acres ; and new recreation grounds close by were presented to the town in 1888 by J. T. Agg-Gardner esq. M.P. for the borough (ktd. 1916). The Pump room occupies an elevated position in the principal garden, and is a substantial building in the Grecian style, in imitation of a temple at Athens, designed by the late Mr. Forbes, architect ; it is 92 feet long by 43 feet, surrounded by a colonnade 13 feet wide, the roof of which is supported by fluted columns 22 feet high. Upon the façade stand three figures representing Æsculapius, Hygeia and Hippocrates. The main building is roofed with a splendid dome 70 feet high, round the interior of which is a spacious gallery, while outside is a protected gallery from which magnificent views of the gardens and lake and of the town and neighbourhood are obtained. The cost of laying out this estate is said to have amounted to nearly half a million sterling.

The wells of the Pittville Spa are three in number, all characterised by containing relatively large quantities of carbonic acid, partially combined and free. In 1847 an analysis was made by Messrs. Abel and Rowney upon water drawn from the main well, 90 feet deep, and situated under the pump room, and a comparison of this analysis with that made by Professor T. E. Thorpe, of the Royal College of Science, South Kensington, in 1893, upon water taken from the Pittville wells, Nos. 1 and 3, shows that the waters experienced no sensible alteration in composition during 50 years. The following statement of the amounts of the principal constituents, expressed to the nearest grain per gallon, as deduced from the two analyses, brings out this result very clearly :

	Abel & Rowney, 1847. Grains per Gallon.	Prof. T. E. Thorpe, 1893. Pittville 1 & 3. Grains per Gallon.
Sodium Chloride	481	484
Sodium Sulphate	113	106
Sodium Bicarbonate	32	34
Potassium Sulphate	3	4
Calcium Carbonate	8	9
Magnesium Carbonate	11	12

Pittville well No. 2 Professor Thorpe finds to be less rich in saline constituents than Nos. 1 and 3, and, though bearing a general resemblance to these, it has a relatively larger content of sodium sulphate, viz. 148 grains per gallon, and a proportionately lower amount of sodium chloride, viz. about 311 grains per gallon. He further states that Pittville well No. 1 contains about 662 grains per gallon of saline matter, and No. 2 about 644 grains, by far the largest constituent in each case being common salt ; both contain notable quantities of bromides and iodides, but the amount of lithia in either is so minute that it can only be detected by the spectroscope : these wells also contain a certain proportion of ferrous carbonate, but not sufficient, in his opinion, to allow them to be regarded as chalybeate. Professor Thorpe also reported to the Town Council on the Chadnor Villa well, the Cottage well in Christ Church road, and the Lansdown well. The water of the first two of these is magnesia saline ; the Chadnor Villa well contains per gallon about 313 grains of saline matter, 118 grains being magnesium sulphate (Epsom salts), and 61 grains sodium sulphate (Glauber's salts) ; of sodium chloride and of bromides and iodides there is very little, and only minute quantities of ferrous carbonate and lithia. The Cottage well is reported to contain about 390 grains of saline matter per gallon, about one-third consisting of Epsom salts, and rather more than a quarter Glauber's salts, together with gypsum, chalk and common salt ; only minute quantities could be traced of ferrous carbonate and lithium, and bromides and iodides were found to be altogether absent. Of the Lansdown well, the Professor says that it contains about 625 grains per gallon of saline matter, more than half being common salt and about a quarter Glauber's salts ; the amount of iron, lithia, and of bromides and iodides was exceedingly small. From these results, it clearly appears that none of the Cheltenham springs can be regarded as chalybeate.

The parish church of St. Mary is a cruciform building of stone, in the Early English, Decorated and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave, aisles, transepts, north porch and a central tower with octagonal spire, containing a clock and a fine peal of 12 bells : in 1912 the spire was restored and the bells rehung at a cost of £1,200, when two new bells were given by Alderman Winterbotham J.P. : on the east side of the north transept is a handsome circular window 45 feet in circumference, divided by radiating mullions into 33 compartments : the original canopied piscina, considered one of the largest and most perfect of its kind in England, is of Decorated character, and forms a square recess, flanked by buttresses, with an arch on the east and north sides : in the chancel are brasses with effigies to Sir William Greville kt. Justice of the Common Pleas, 1513, his wife, three sons and eight daughters : there is also a mural monument to the wife of John English D.D. 1643, and a tablet to various members of the De la Bere family, 1783-1810 : in the chancel is a monument of alabaster and marble to the Rev. Edward Walker D.C.L. perpetual curate from 1857, and first rector of this church, who died in 1872, and there is also a large and fine brass to the Very Rev.

Urquhart, of Sevenoaks, Kent, and consisting of the interest of £1,000 in £3½ per Cent. Reduced Bank Annuities, is distributed annually to the poor at Christmas. Ashmead's, of £86 4s. left in 1742 by John Ashmead, of Cheltenham, is distributed annually to the poor of Bethel Baptist chapel. Pate's, left in 1578 by Richard Pate, of Minsterworth, and Recorder of Gloucester in 1556, has a gross income of upwards of £2,000, three-fourths of which sum is applied, under a scheme approved by an Order in Council in 1881, in maintaining the Cheltenham Grammar schools and certain almshouses in Albion street, the residue being applied to its own purposes by Corpus Christi College, Oxford. Under a scheme sealed by the Board of Education, 1910, a new governing body was formed for the administration of the foundation. The charity estate comprises some valuable portions of the town, besides houses in Gloucester, land at Swindon and a farm at the Leigh: the almshouses are for six inmates, born in the town, and over sixty years of age; each inmate has two rooms and 8s. a week, supplemented by other payments at fixed periods. The election of almspeople rests with the churchwardens of the parish church. The Septimus Redhead bequest of about £500 per annum is distributed to hospitals and institutions; the Walker Memorial Fund provides annuities to ten indigent women. There are twelve cottage homes for aged people in Naunton Park, the gift of the late J. A. and Mrs. Hay. The Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, North place, established in 1889, is amalgamated with the General Hospital: it is for the gratuitous relief of really indigent persons suffering from diseases of the eye, ear and throat; it is managed by the board of management of the General and Eye Hospitals; it contains 16 beds, and treats about 580 in-patients and 2,700 out-patients annually; there is a ward for paying patients desiring special hospital treatment. Sir Thomas Phillipps transferred here from his mansion at Middle Hill, Worcestershire, his extensive library and fine collection of pictures, comprising some hundreds of paintings; the collection now includes examples of many eminent masters, about 40 paintings by John Glover, a fine collection of original drawings by the old masters, and paintings by Catlin, depicting the manners of the North American Indians. Among other objects of interest here are a splendid collection of illuminated MSS. and various Babylonian curiosities, one of which is a cylinder giving an account of some of the acts of Nebuchadnezzar.

Previous to the Norman accession the manor belonged to Edward the Confessor, and in 1199 it was granted to Henry de Bohun, Earl of Hereford, who exchanged it with King John for other lands; it was next given to the Abbey of Fescamp, in Normandy; and subsequently to the nunnery of Sion, in Middlesex, on the dissolution of which, in 1532, it reverted to the Crown.

LECKHAMPTON is a parish and village with a station (Cheltenham South and Leckhampton) about half a mile north from the village on the Cheltenham and Kingham branch of the Great Western railway, 2 miles south from Cheltenham; it is in the Stroud-division of the county of Gloucester, hundred, union, petty sessional division, county court district, rural deanery and archdeaconry of Cheltenham and diocese of Gloucester. A large portion of this parish is included in the borough of Cheltenham. The church of St. Peter is an edifice of stone, principally in the Early English style, consisting of chancel, nave of six bays, aisles, north porch and a central tower, with spire, containing 8 bells, two of which were added in 1904: in the south aisle is a brass with effigies to William Norwood esq. ob. 1598, Elizabeth (Lygon) his wife, nine sons and two daughters, with six Latin elegiac verses: in the church are two recumbent effigies of stone, coloured, representing Sir John Giffard and his lady, c. 1330; the male figure is cross-legged: there is also an effigy of an ecclesiastic: all the windows are stained, and there are various mural tablets, one of which is to the last lineal descendant of Sir Francis Drake (possibly collateral descendant is meant. Drake married, but left no issue. Ed.): there are sittings for 400 persons: on the north side of the churchyard are four recumbent stone effigies, much dilapidated. The register of burials dates from the year 1682; baptisms, 1709; marriages, 1719. The living is a rectory, net yearly value from 170 acres of glebe and fees £720, with residence; it is in the gift of the Bishop of Gloucester, and has been held since 1928 by the Rev. Canon Frederick William Sears M.A. of Keble College, Oxford, who is a surrogate. The Parish Hall, erected in 1896-7, is a building of stone, used for church purposes, entertainments &c. Leckhampton Court, the property and seat of Mrs. Elwes, who is lady of the manor and principal landowner, is an ancient mansion of stone of the sixteenth century, commanding an extensive view over the vale. The soil is part clayey and part sandy loam; subsoil, gravelly and stoney and in some parts clay. The chief crops are wheat and barley. The area of the parish is 1,289 acres; the population of the ecclesiastical parish of St. Peter in 1921 was 1,317.

In 1894, by Local Government Board Order No. 31,815, that part of Leckhampton civil parish which was in the municipal borough of Cheltenham was transferred to Cheltenham civil parish.

PRESTBURY is a parish and village, and was a market town in the time of Henry III.; it is on the road from Cheltenham to Winchcombe, 2 miles north-east from Cheltenham and 8 south-by-east from Tewkesbury; it is in the Cirencester and Tewkesbury division of the county of Gloucester, lower division of the hundred of Deerhurst, petty sessional division, union, county court district, rural deanery and archdeaconry of Cheltenham and diocese of Gloucester. The water supply is obtained from Cheltenham. The church of St. Mary is an ancient building of stone, principally in the Early English and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave, aisles, south porch and an embattled western tower containing a clock and 8 bells: all the windows are stained, and there are mural tablets in the church to William Baghot esq. d. 1725, and Ann (De la Bere), his wife, d. 1739; and to Christopher Capel, d. 1740, and Sarah, his wife, d. 1733: the church was restored in 1864, at a cost of over £3,000, under the direction of the late G. E. Street esq. R.A.: a stone tablet bearing the names of the men of the parish who lost their lives in the Great War, 1914-18, has been placed on the wall of the south chapel: there are 500 sittings. The register dates from the year 1633. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £375, with 18 acres of glebe and residence; it is in the gift of W. Baghot-De la Bere esq. and has been held since 1919 by the Rev. John Baghot-De la Bere M.A. of Worcester College, Oxford. The Baghot family have (with two exceptions) been regularly presented to this living since the year 1587. There is a Union Congregational chapel in Deep street, erected in 1860, with 200 sittings. In the centre of the village is a stone lantern cross mounted on three stone steps, bearing on the panels at the base the names of the men of the parish who lost their lives in the Great War, 1914-18. There is a Cottage Almshouse, described in an inscription upon it as "The gift of Anne Goodrich for the Religious Poor A.D. 1720," and available for three occupants, each receiving about 5s. weekly. The oldest charity, called "The Poor's Grounds," originally consisted of 6 cottages and two fields: the cottages were sold some years ago, and the money invested: there is also a sum of £1,800, left in 1881, by George Perton esq. and £450 left in the same year by John Surman-Surman esq. ; these two sums are invested in Consols : there is also a charity called " The Durham Legacy " of £2 5s. yearly value : under a scheme of the Charity Commissioners all these benefactions are now administered by the Trustees of the Prestbury Parochial Charities. Pittville Spa is in this parish ; for particulars see under Cheltenham. Cheltenham racecourse is in this parish, and near the entrance is a station on the Great Western railway (for race days). The Cheltenham Polo Club have their grounds at Prestbury. Prestbury House, the seat of Major Christopher Capel, is a fine stone mansion standing in its own grounds, and is more than 400 years old. In 1642-3, during the Cromwellian wars, the Roundheads had a garrison here, whence they sallied out to cut off the retreat of Lord Chandos, but without success. Prestbury Court is the residence of Henry Edward Ripley esq. William Henry Horsley esq. is lord of the manor. The principal land-owners are Wilfred Baghot-De la Bere esq. and Major Christopher Capel. The soil is various, from keen sand to stiff clay ; subsoil, chiefly gravel and clay. The chief crops are wheat and roots. The area is 3,054 acres ; the population in 1921 was 1 933.
