For ecclesiastical purposes it is in the rural deanery and archdeaconry of Cheltenham and diocese of Gloucester. It is 94 miles by road from London, 109 by the Great Western railway via Oxford and 121 via Swindon. The Great Western railway has three stations here, that in St. James's square, which is the principal station, being near the centre of the town, which is 9 miles east north-east from Gloucester by road and 7½ by rail, 9 south from Tewkesbury, 15 west from Stow-on-the-Wold, 13 north-east from Stroud by road and 19 by rail, and 22 south from Worcester. The London, Midland and Scottish Railway Company has a passenger station here in the Queen's road (Lansdown), about 1½ miles from the centre of High street, and a goods station in the Tewkesbury road, about half a mile from the former. The Banbury and Cheltenham Direct railway, via Kingham, completed in 1886, connects two of the principal sections of the Great Western railway and unites Northern and Eastern counties by a shorter and more direct route. The Cheltenham and Honeybourne branch, opened in 1906, connects Cheltenham and South Wales with Birmingham and Wolverhampton. The Cheltenham station on this line, called Malvern Road, is one minute by train and about half a mile by road from St. James' station. The Great Western railway affords direct communication with the South Western counties, via Andoversford and Cirencester. There is also a Race Course station which is open on race days only.

Motor omnibus services are provided by the Cheltenham District Traction Company.

The town was unrepresented until the passing of the Reform Act, 1832 (2 and 3 Wm. IV. c. 45), under which enactment it became entitled to one member; under the Boundary Act, 1868, a portion of the parish of Leckhampton was included in the parliamentary borough, and by the Redistribution of Seats Act, 1885 (48 & 49 Vict. c. 23), so much of the parish of Charlton Kings as lies to the north of the Cheltenham and Banbury railway was added. The borough was again extended, Nov. 9, 1893, by further additions from the parishes of Leckhampton and Charlton Kings. Under the county of Gloucester Review Order, 1935, further parts of the parish of Charlton Kings and Leckhampton and parts of the parishes of Prestbury and Upper Hatherley were transferred to the borough. Under the Representation of the People Act, 1918, Cheltenham still returns one member. Until 1876 the town was governed by thirty commissioners appointed under the Cheltenham Improvement Act, 1852; but under the Royal Charter of Incorporation, obtained in September, 1876, the borough had a corporation, consisting of a mayor, deputy mayor, six aldermen and 18 councillors, and the municipal borough was divided into six wards, co-extensive with the parish. In 1933 the borough was divided into eight wards, and the council now consists of 8 aldermen and 24 councillors.

The town derives its name from the small river Chelt, which rises at Dowdeswell in the vicinity, and, in its course to the Severn, runs through the town, which is situated on an extensive plain, sheltered on the north and east by the Cotswold Hills; the principal street, High street, is more than 1½ miles in length, and contains many modern buildings, interspersed with houses of more ancient date. The Promenade, leading from the High street to Montpellier, extends for more than a quarter of a mile in a straight line and has an avenue of spreading trees, with shops and terraces on either side. There are no less than 16 miles of tree-planted roads and streets in the borough, which is called the "Garden Town." The waterworks for the supply of water are on the slopes of the Cotswolds, in the Dowdeswell valley, and in addition a supply is obtained from the Severn at Tewkesbury. The town is lighted by electricity. Gas is supplied by a company established in 1819. The corporation own the Pittville Spa and Gardens, and the Montpellier Spa, gardens, mineral wells and baths. The central spa is situated at the Town hall where all the mineral waters are dispensed.

Pittville park, opened in 1894, includes the Pittville gardens and a lake, rowing course and recreation ground at Marle Hill; the property comprises 15 acres; the length of the lake is 1,650 feet, and of the boating course 4,400 feet; the maximum width is 455 feet, and there is a total water area of 2½ acres; on the south side of the lake is an island, and at another point a waterfall, and there is a numerous flock of water-fowl; the lake is stocked with fish.

Eleven acres of land on either side of College road were purchased in 1928 by the Corporation and laid out as an ornamental park and recreation ground. The Corporation also bought Leckhampton Hill Estate, comprising about 400 acres, for the benefit of the town.

Naunton Park, situated to the south-east of the town, and opened in 1894, comprises about 8 acres, and is laid out as a recreation ground. There is also a recreation ground in Whaddon road.

Adjoining Sandford Park is an open-air swimming pool, constructed on a site covering 4½ acres at a cost of £15,700 in 1935: the pool measures 165 feet by 90 feet: a children's pool was added in 1938.

The South African War Memorial, on the Promenade, was unveiled in 1907 and includes the figure of a soldier in bronze.

In 1914 a statue in bronze, sculptured by Lady Scott (now Rt. Hon. Lady Kennet), was unveiled on the Promenade as a memorial to the late Edward Adrian Wilson B.A., M.B., F.Z.S. born in Cheltenham 1872, chief of the scientific staff, artist and zoologist of the British Antarctic Expedition, 1910-1913. He reached the South Pole January 17, 1912, and died with Capt. Scott on the great ice barrier, March, 1912.

In 1914 a stone statue of King Edward VII, surmounting a drinking fountain, was erected at Montpellier, given by the late Alderman J. W. Drew and Mrs. Drew.

An obelisk on a base of three steps was erected in 1920-21, opposite the municipal offices as a memorial to the 1,266 men from Cheltenham who fell in the Great War, 1914-18.

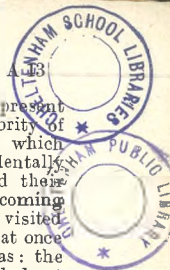

Cheltenham has acquired its present important position from the celebrity of its mineral springs: the waters, which are more or less saline, were accidentally discovered in the year 1716, and their medicinal virtues gradually becoming known, his Majesty George III visited the place in 1788, an event which at once led to the establishment of the spas: the original Old Wells were established about 1738, Montpellier spa in 1818, and the Pittville spa, with its gardens and lake, in 1830.

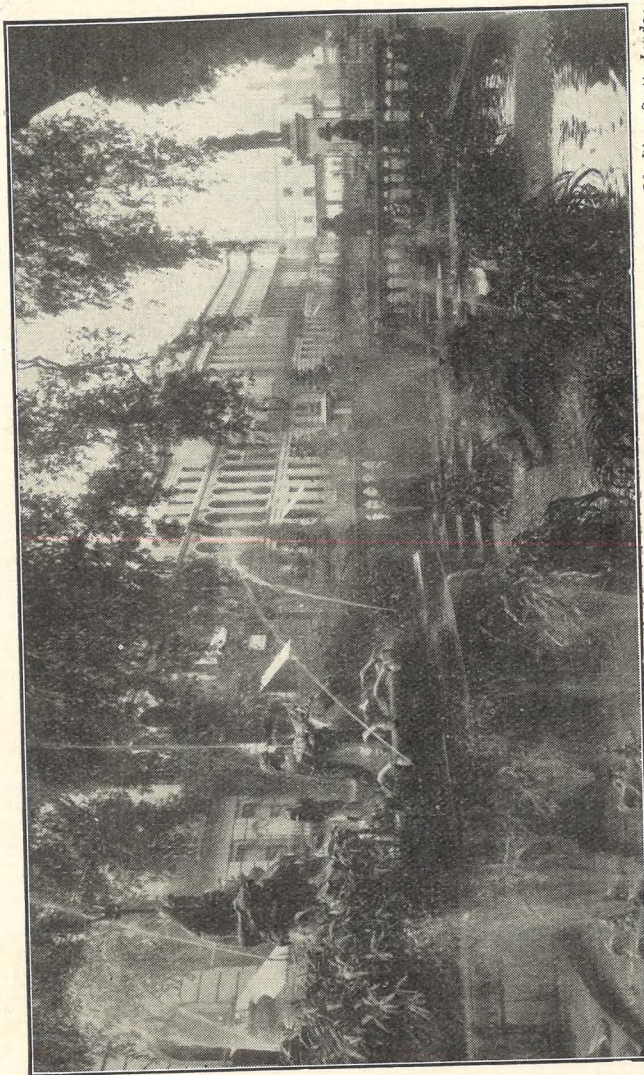

The latter was purchased by the corporation in 1889 and has saline springs surrounded by beautiful gardens and grounds, with walks and drives planted with trees six miles in extent. The gardens were enlarged in 1901 by the corporation to the extent of 3½ acres; and new recreation grounds close by were presented to the town in 1888 by J. T. Agg-Gardner esq. M.P. for the borough (ktd. 1916). The Pump room occupies an elevated position in the principal garden, and is a building in the Grecian style, in imitation of a temple at Athens; it is surrounded by a colonnade, the roof of which is supported by fluted columns. The main building is roofed with a dome 70 feet high, round the interior of which is a gallery, while outside is a protected gallery from which views of the gardens and lake and of the town and neighbourhood are obtained.

The wells of the Pittville Spa are three in number, all characterised by containing relatively large quantities of carbonic acid, partially combined and free. In 1847 an analysis was made by Messrs. Abel and Rowney upon water drawn from the main well, 90 feet deep, and situated under the pump room, and a comparison of this analysis with that made by Professor T. E. Thorpe, of the Royal College of Science, South Kensington, in 1893, upon water taken from the Pittville wells, Nos. 1 and 3 shows that the waters experienced no sensible alteration in composition during 50 years. The following is a statement of amounts of the principal constituents:

Sodium Chloride .....	444.3
Sodium Sulphate .....	212.0
Sodium Bicarbonate .....	42.1
Potassium Sulphate .....	3.37
Calcium Carbonate .....	31.8
Magnesium Carbonate .....	31.9

dyspepsia, obesity, plethora, chronic constipation, hæmorrhoidal conditions, and in cases of glycosuria associated with obesity.

The chief ingredients of the Lansdown or Sodium Sulphate Saline are sulphate and chloride of sodium, but, as is the case with each of the waters, small quantities of a variety of compounds are also present. This is the water par excellence for anæmic dyspeptics, inasmuch as it has a decided laxative effect, and the amount of iron which this water contains, though small, is not unimportant.

The Pittville or Alkaline Saline is noteworthy as being the only alkaline natural water in Great Britain. Generally speaking, the Pittville alkaline water is adapted to such complaints as congestion of the liver, torpid liver, biliary catarrh, gastro-duodenal catarrh, and gallstones. The general physiological effect is antacid and mildly diuretic.

The Chadnor or Magnesium and Calcium Saline may be termed the renal water; it contains a large quantity of sulphate of magnesium and a considerable amount of carbonate and sulphate of calcium, which salts are recognized as valuable diuretics. It rids the kidney of gravel and relieves the condition on which stone depends. A course of this water is advised after operations on the urinary tract.

The combined Hospitals contain 176 beds. The Female Orphan Asylum (now the Girls' Orphanage) was founded by Queen Charlotte in 1806, and is under the patronage of the Duchess of Beaufort. The Delancey Hospital, Leckhampton, was founded by the late Miss Delancey, who bequeathed money for this purpose. The St. John Ambulance Brigade and the British Red Cross Society have a well-equipped ambulance station at 86 Gloucester road: the site provides living quarters for the staff, garaging for the six motor ambulances and a lecture hall to hold 500, in addition to grounds for training the 300 members; a twenty-four hour day service in the town and district. At this station is a shield, constructed as a memorial to six men of the "Glos. VII" B.R.C.S. and also a shield to 3 men of the (Cheltenham Corps) St. J.A.B. who fell on active service in the Great War 1914-18.

Thirsteain House, in the Bath road, is a classic structure of the Ionic order, originally built by a Mr. Scott for his own residence; the two wings were added by Lord Northwick, and the central portico is a copy of part of the temple of Ilissus at Athens. Sir Thomas Phillipps transferred here from his mansion at Middle Hill, Worcestershire, his extensive library and collection of fine pictures, comprising some hundreds of paintings; the collection now includes examples of many eminent masters, about 40 paintings by John Glover, a fine collection of original drawings by the old masters, and paintings by Catlin, depicting the manners of the North American Indians. Among other objects of interest here are a splendid collection of illuminated MSS. and various Babylonian curiosities, one of which is a cylinder giving an account of some of the acts of Nebuchadnezzar.

At Flos Chronos, Mead road, there is a floral clock, which is working all the year round.

The Cheltenham racecourse is at Prestbury Park: there are four meetings a year in normal times.

Lt.-Col. Frederick John Gardner-Agg D.S.O. is lord of the manor, and George F. Ticehurst esq. is steward. Previous to the Norman accession the manor belonged to Edward the Confessor, and in 1199 it was granted to Henry de Bohun, Earl of Hereford, who exchanged it with King John for other lands; it was next given to the Abbey of Fescamp, in Normandy; and subsequently to the nunnery of Sion, in Middlesex, on the dissolution of which, in 1532, it reverted to the Crown.

Almost all the buildings are of Cotswold stone, and a new block of class-rooms constructed in the same material was added as part of the centenary commemoration. The chapel, which contains numerous memorials to Old Cheltonians, including some fine wood carving, was built to commemorate the jubilee of the college in 1891. In the dining hall (formerly the library) hang the portraits of distinguished Old Cheltonians and former head masters of the college. The monument in front of the college was erected in memory of Old Cheltonians killed in the South African War, and the chapel cloisters dedicated in 1921, were built in memory of Old Cheltonians who gave their lives for their country in the Great War. The college museum is open to the public on Tuesday afternoons. The five college boarding houses are grouped round the main college field and there is also a large day boy section. The college possesses its own swimming bath, fives and squash courts, hard tennis courts and further playing fields in Charlton Park. There is also a junior section which has its own head master.
