CHELTENHAM

Cheltenham is a watering place, a municipal and parliamentary borough and market town, the head of a petty sessional division and county court district, having bankruptcy jurisdiction; it has a district registry of the High Court of Justice and is the headquarters of the county police. For ecclesiastical purposes it is in the rural deanery and archdeaconry of Cheltenham and diocese of Gloucester. It is 94 miles by road from London, 109 by rail via Oxford and 121 via Swindon. The principal railway station is that in St. James's square in the centre of the town and there are other stations in Malvern road & Queen's road. There is also a Race Course station which is open on race days only.

Motor omnibus services are provided by the Cheltenham District Traction Company.

The town was unrepresented until the passing of the Reform Act, 1832 (2 and 3 Wm. IV. c. 45), under which enactment it became entitled to one member; under the Boundary Act, 1868, a portion of the parish of Leckhampton was included in the parliamentary borough, and by the Redistribution of Seats Act, 1885 (48 & 49 Vict. c. 23), so much of the parish of Charlton Kings as lies to the north of the Cheltenham and Banbury railway was added. The borough was again extended, Nov. 9, 1893, by further additions from the parishes of Leckhampton and Charlton Kings. Under the county of Gloucester Review Order, 1935, further parts of the parish of Charlton Kings and Leckhampton and parts of the parishes of Prestbury and Upper Hatherley were transferred to the borough. Under the Representation of the People Act, 1918, Cheltenham still returns one member. Until 1876 the town was governed by thirty commissioners appointed under the Cheltenham Improvement Act, 1852; but under the Royal Charter of Incorporation, obtained in September, 1876, the borough had a corporation, consisting of a mayor, deputy mayor, six aldermen and 18 councillors, and the municipal borough was divided into six wards, co-extensive with the parish. In 1933 the borough was divided into eight wards, and the council now consists of 8 aldermen and 24 councillors.

The town derives its name from the small river Chelt, which runs through the town, which is situated on an extensive plain, sheltered on the north and east by the Cotswold Hills. The water-works for the supply of water are on the slopes of the Cotswolds, in the Dowdeswell valley, and in addition a supply is obtained from the Severn at Tewkesbury. The town is lighted by electricity. Gas is supplied by a company established in 1819. The corporation own the Pittville Spa and Gardens, and the Montpellier Spa, gardens, mineral wells and baths. The central spa is situated at the Town hall where all the mineral waters are dispensed.

Pittville park, opened in 1894, includes the Pittville gardens and a lake, rowing course and recreation ground at Marle Hill; the property comprises 15 acres.

Eleven acres of land on either side of College road were purchased in 1928 by the Corporation and laid out as an ornamental park and recreation ground. The Corporation also bought Leckhampton Hill Estate, comprising about 400 acres, for the benefit of the town.

Naunton Park, situated to the south-east of the town, comprises about 8 acres. There is also a recreation ground in Whaddon road.

Adjoining Sandford Park is an open-air swimming pool, constructed on a site covering 4½ acres, in 1935: the pool measures 165 feet by 90 feet: a children's pool was added in 1938.

The South African War Memorial, on the Promenade, was unveiled in 1907 and includes the figure of a soldier in bronze.

In 1914 a statue in bronze, sculptured by Lady Scott (now Rt. Hon. Lady Kennet), was unveiled on the Promenade as a memorial to the late Edward Adrian Wilson B.A., M.B., F.Z.S. born in Cheltenham 1872, chief of the scientific staff, artist and zoologist of the British Antarctic Expedition, 1910-1913. He reached the South Pole January 17, 1912, and died with Capt. Scott on the great ice barrier, March, 1912.

In 1914 a stone statue of King Edward VII, surmounting a drinking fountain, was erected at Montpellier.

An obelisk on a base of three steps was erected in 1920-21, opposite the municipal offices as a memorial to the 1,266 men from Cheltenham who fell in the Great War, 1914-18.

Cheltenham is celebrated for its mineral springs which were discovered in the year 1716. The two principal waters—Fieldholme and Pittville—are obtainable at the Town Hall Spa and at the Spa Medical Baths.

The following analysis of the Fieldholme and Pittville waters were carried out in 1945 by Mr. Arnold Woodmansey M.Sc., F.R.I.C.

The Fieldholme or Twin Salt Saline contains nearly equal parts of magnesium sulphate and sodium sulphate. It is most useful in gastric hyperacidity, sthenic dyspepsia, obesity, plethora, chronic constipation, hæmorrhoidal conditions, and in cases of glycosuria associated with obesity.

The Pittville or Alkaline Saline is noteworthy as being the only alkaline natural water in Great Britain. Generally speaking, the Pittville alkaline water is adapted to such complaints as gastro-intestinal intoxication, congestion of the liver, neurasthenia, arteriosclerosis, chronic gout and rheumatism. The general physiological effect is antacid and mildly diuretic.

Under the County of Gloucester Review Order, 1935, a further part of the parish was transferred to the borough of Cheltenham.

Prestbury is a parish, and was a market town in the time of Henry III; it is on the road from Cheltenham to Winchcombe, 2 miles north-east from Cheltenham and 8 south-by-east from Tewkesbury; it is in the Cirencester and Tewkesbury division of the county of Gloucester, lower division of the hundred of Deerhurst, petty sessional division, county court district, rural deanery and archdeaconry of Cheltenham and diocese of Gloucester. Gas and electricity are available. The water supply is obtained from Cheltenham. The church of St. Mary is an ancient building of stone, principally in the Early English and Perpendicular styles, consisting of chancel, clerestoried nave, aisles, south porch and an embattled western tower containing a clock and 8 bells: all the windows are stained, and there are various memorial tablets in the church which was restored in 1864: there is a stone tablet bearing the names of the men of the parish who fell in the Great War 1914-18, on the wall of the south chapel: there are 500 sittings. The register dates from the year 1633. The living is a vicarage, net yearly value £357, with 18 acres of glebe and residence; it is in the gift of W. Baghot-De la Bere esq. and has been held since 1944 by the Rev. Henry Wilmot Hill M.A. of Christ Church, Oxford. There is a Union Congregational chapel in Deep street, erected in 1860, with 200 sittings. In the centre of the village is a stone lantern cross mounted on three stone steps, bearing on the panels at the base the names of the men of the parish who lost their lives in the Great War, 1914-18. There is a Cottage Almshouse available for three occupants, each receiving about 5s. weekly. Cheltenham race course is in this parish, and near the entrance is a station on the Great Western railway (for race days). Prestbury House, the seat of Major Christopher Capel, is a stone mansion standing in its own grounds, and is more than 400 years old. The soil is various, from keen sand to stiff clay; subsoil, chiefly gravel and clay. The chief crops are wheat and roots. The area is 2,764 acres; the population in 1931 was 2,154. Under the County of Gloucester Review Order, 1935, parts of this parish, including the Pittville Pump Rooms, was transferred to the borough of Cheltenham.

Noverton is a hamlet 1 mile east. Part of PITTVILLE is in Cheltenham.
