CHELTENHAM

Cheltenham is a watering place, a municipal and parliamentary borough and market town, the head of a petty sessional division and county court district, having bankruptcy jurisdiction; it has a district registry of the High Court of Justice and is the headquarters of the county police. For ecclesiastical purposes it is in the rural deanery and archdeaconry of Cheltenham and diocese of Gloucester. It is 94 miles by road from London, 109 by rail via Oxford and 121 via Swindon. The principal railway station is that in St. James's square in the centre of the town and there are other stations in Malvern road & Queen's road. There is also a Race Course station which is open on race days only.

The town was unrepresented until the passing of the Reform Act, 1832 (2 and 3 Wm. IV. c. 45), under which enactment it became entitled to one member; under the Boundary Act, 1868, a portion of the parish of Leckhampton was included in the parliamentary borough, and by the Redistribution of Seats Act, 1885 (48 & 49 Vict. c. 23), so much of the parish of Charlton Kings as lies to the north of the Cheltenham and Banbury railway was added. The borough was again extended, Nov. 9, 1893, by further additions from the parishes of Leckhampton and Charlton Kings. Under the county of Gloucester Review Order, 1935, further parts of the parish of Charlton Kings and Leckhampton and parts of the parishes of Prestbury and Upper Hatherley were transferred to the borough. Under the Representation of the People Act, 1918, Cheltenham still returns one member. Until 1876 the town was governed by thirty commissioners appointed under the Cheltenham Improvement Act, 1852; but under the Royal Charter of Incorporation, obtained in September, 1876, the borough had a corporation, consisting of a mayor, deputy mayor, six aldermen and 18 councillors, and the municipal borough was divided into six wards, co-extensive with the parish. In 1933 the borough was divided into eight wards, and the council now consists of 8 aldermen and 24 councillors.

The town derives its name from the small river Chelt, which runs through the town, which is situated on an extensive plain, sheltered on the north and east by the Cotswold Hills. The water-works for the supply of water are on the slopes of the Cotswolds, in the Dowdeswell valley, and in addition a supply is obtained from the Severn at Tewkesbury. The town is lighted by electricity and gas is available. The corporation own the Pitville Gardens, and the Montpelier Spa, gardens, mineral wells and baths. The central spa is situated at the Town hall where all the mineral waters are dispensed.

Pittville park, opened in 1894, includes the Pittville gardens and a lake, rowing course and recreation ground at Marle Hill; the property comprises 15 acres.

Eleven acres of land on either side of College road were purchased in 1928 by the Corporation and laid out as an ornamental park and recreation ground. The Corporation also bought Leckhampton Hill Estate, comprising about 400 acres, for the benefit of the town.

Naunton Park, situated to the south-east of the town, comprises about 8 acres. There is also a recreation ground in Whaddon road.

Adjoining Sandford Park is an open-air swimming pool, constructed on a site covering  $4\frac{1}{2}$  acres in 1935: the pool measures 165 feet by 90 feet: a children's pool was added in 1938.

The South African War Memorial, on the Promenade, was unveiled in 1907 and includes the figure of a soldier in bronze.

In 1914 a statue in bronze was unveiled on the Promenade as a memorial to Edward Adrian Wilson B.A., M.B., F.Z.S.

born in Cheltenham 1872, chief of the scientific staff, artist and zoologist of the British Antarctic Expedition, 1910-1913. He reached the South Pole January 17, 1912, and died with Capt. Scott on the great ice barrier, March, 1912.

In 1914 a stone statue of King Edward VII, surmounting a drinking fountain, was erected at Montpellier.

An obelisk on a base of three steps was erected in 1920-21, opposite the municipal offices as a memorial to the 1,266 men from Cheltenham who fell in the Great War, 1914-18. A stone panel containing bronze plaques, bearing the names of those who fell in the 1939-45 War, was inserted in balustrading to the memorial and unveiled in 1951.

Cheltenham is celebrated for its mineral springs which were discovered in the year 1716. The principal water—Pittville—is obtainable at the Town Hall Spa and at the Spa Medical Baths.

The following analysis of the Pittville water was carried out in 1945 by Mr. Arnold Woodmansey M.Sc., F.R.I.C.
