EXTRAORDINARY MOTOR COLLISION.

An extraordinary motor collision took place on Wednesday evening, November 27, 1912, at Hangman's Stone, near Piesdown. A Ford motor-car, driven by Rev. C. S. Gray, of Haselton, collided, head on, at high speed, with a 28/36 h.p. Daimler shooting brake owned by Mr. Orr-Ewing, of Malvern. No one was seriously hurt in the accident. Our photo shows the two cars in Messrs. Steel and Co.'s garage awaiting repair.

WINCHCOMBE CHRISTMAS MARKET.

WINCHCOMBE CHRISTMAS MARKET WAS HELD ON WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 4TH, 1912, MR. CHARLES CASTLE BEING THE AUCTIONEER. ALTHOUGH NOT A VERY BIG MARKET, A FINE LOT OF PIGS WERE SOLD, AND THE QUALITY OF SOME OF THE CATTLE WAS VERY GOOD, SATISFACTORY PRICES BEING REALISED. [Photos by Cheltenham Newspaper Co., Ltd.]

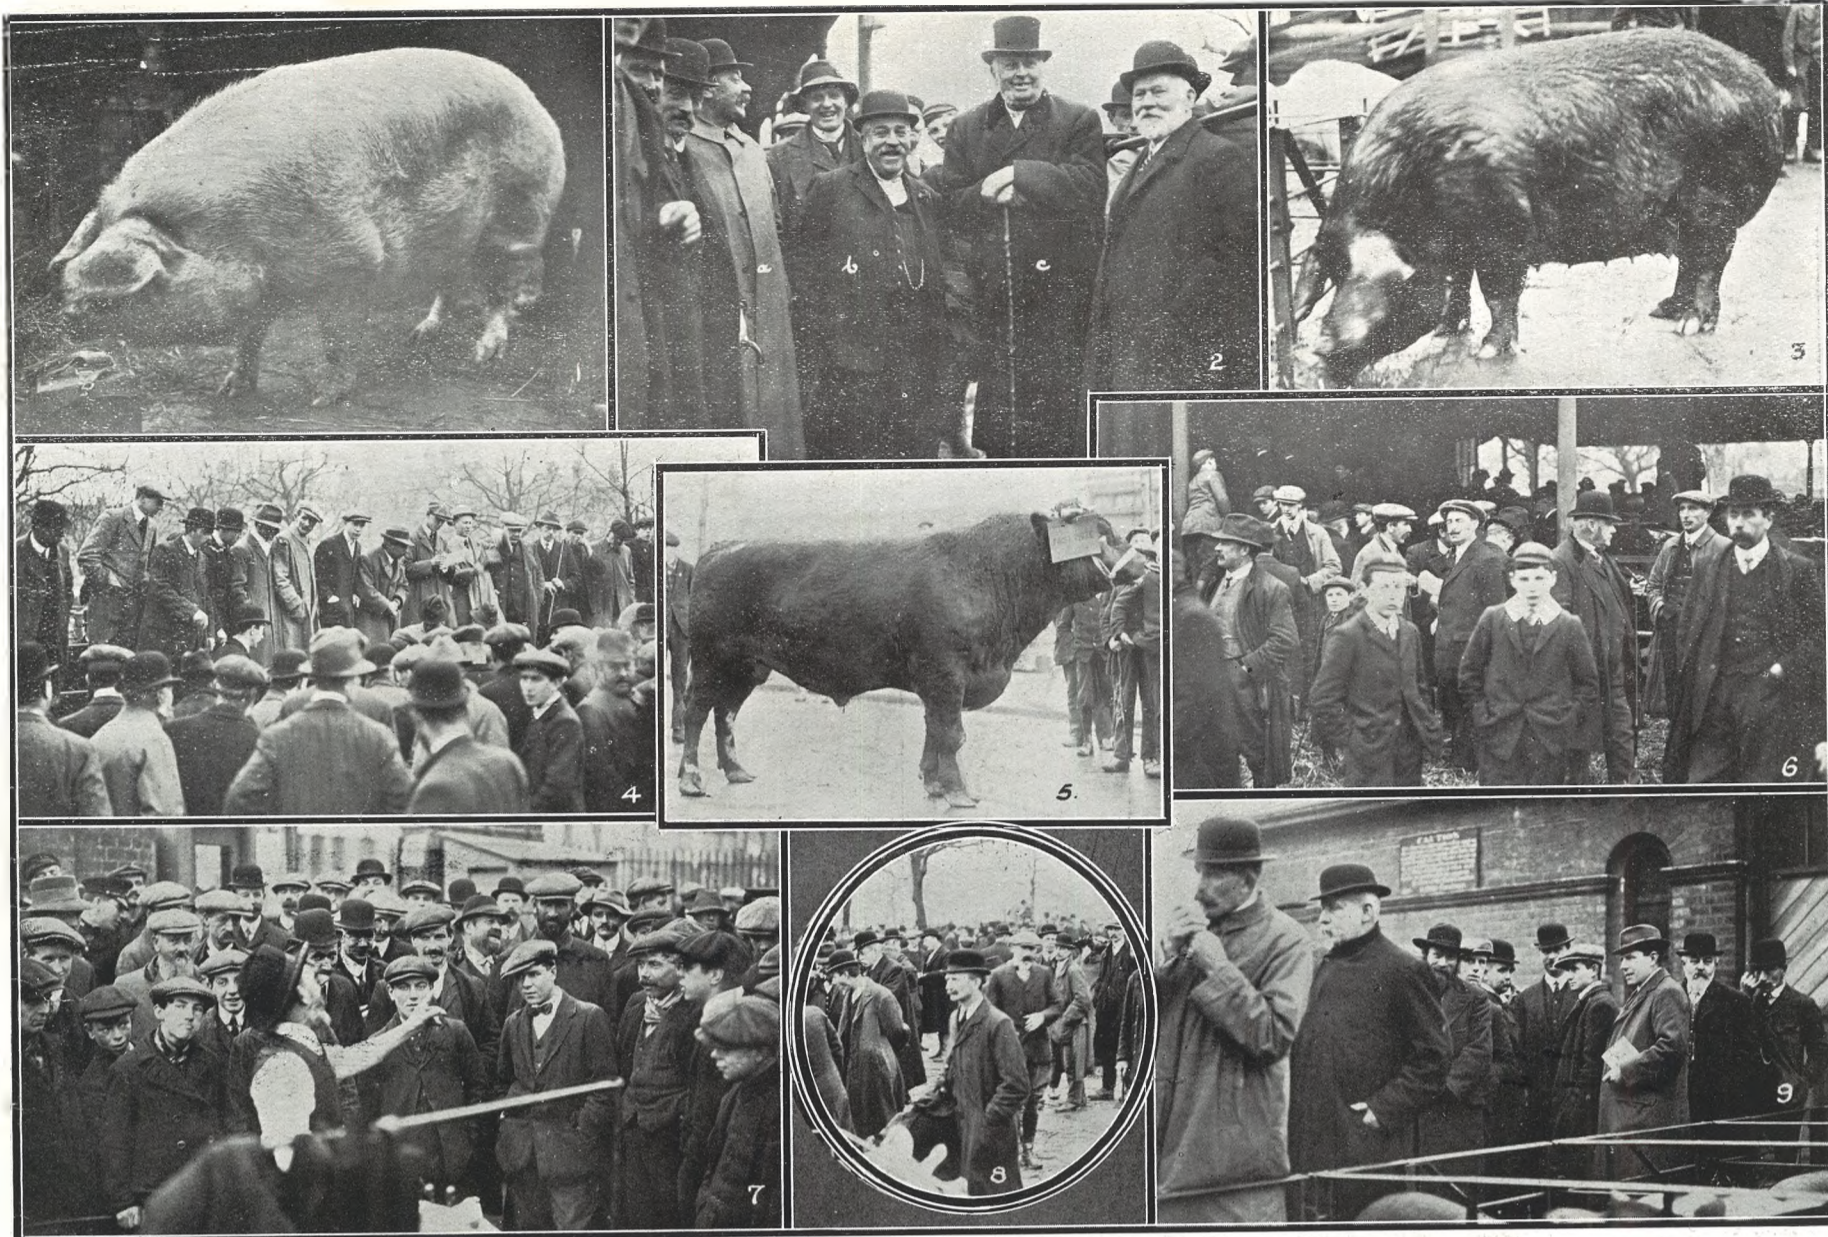

- 1.—Prominent local agriculturists. On extreme left is Mr. A. D. Wilcox, Ray Meadow (who has had such a good season at the various shows, winning the County Cup with his roots at the Gloucester Show among his numerous successes); Mr. G. Raper, steward to Mr. Dent Brocklehurst, in centre, with walking-stick and pipe.
- 2.—Waiting for commencement of sale.
- 3.—Three beautiful black steers, sent by Mr. Dent Brocklehurst.
- 4.—The sale of pigs in progress.
- 5.—Mr. F. Peacey, Mr. Swift, P.S. O'Rourke, Mr. R. W. W. Edwards, and Mr. Howard Organ.
- 6.—Mr. Charles Castle selling.
- 7.—Selling the sheep in a corner of market.

FAIRFORD CHRISTMAS MARKET.

THE MARKET WAS HELD IN THE MARKET SQUARE OF THIS QUAIN, OLD-FASHIONED GLOUCESTERSHIRE TOWN, ON TUESDAY, DEC. 10, 1912, AND WAS A VERY GOOD ONE. ESPECIALLY FOR SHEEP. PRICES RULED HIGH. MR. E. G. CLIFFORD, OF QUENINGTON, WAS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL EXHIBITOR, WINNING THE PRINCIPAL PRIZES.

- 1.—Mr. C. F. Moore selling.
- 2.—Messrs. H. Smith (Cirencester) and E. Handy (North Cerney), judging sheep.
- 3.—Looking at the sheep.
- 4.—Mr. A. F. Hobbs (x) selling sheep.
- 5.—Young students of stock.
- 6.—Sale in progress.
- 7.—Mr. T. Rich (left) and Mr. E. G. Clifford (centre), both prize-winners, with a friend.
- 8.—Inspecting the sheep.
- 9.—The two beautiful Angus steers with which Mr. E. G. Clifford won the champion prize of £5 for best pair of beasts in market.

GLOUCESTER CHRISTMAS MARKET.

This Market, held on Monday, Dec. 9, 1912, was an enormous one, every square inch of the spacious Market-place being packed with fat stock—cattle, calves, sheep, lambs, and pigs—and prices realised very high figures, buyers attending from a very wide radius, some as far away as Dundee. The auctioneers had a very busy day. Although the farmers had a drawback during the past season with their hay and corn, the opinion was expressed in the market that at the present time the outlook is better for agriculture than it has been for many years.

- 1.—Mr. G. Hall's (Whitminster) first prize sow (sold to London Central Meat Co. for £15 12s. 6d.).
- 2.—A group of well-known farmers and dealers: (a) Mr. J. Gardner, (b) Mr. F.

- Gresswell (Blakeney), (c) Mr. William Gardner (Adsett, Westbury-on-Severn).
- 3.—Mr. C. Clissold's fat sow, winner of first prize in Mr. J. Pearce Pope's sale (also bought for the London Central Meat Co.).

- 4.—Mr. Pope (in white hat) selling pigs.
- 5.—Mr. W. E. Guilding's (Elmore) first prize bull (sold for £29 5s.).
- 6.—Outside the cattle sale.
- 7.—Mr. F. G. Young, the bootlace seller, with

- the usual crowd enjoying his witticisms.
- 8.—Looking at the pigs.
- 9.—Waiting for sale to commence.

[Photos by Cheltenham Newspaper Co., Ltd.]

AGRICULTURE EXTRAORDINARY.

On Saturday last, Dec. 7, experiments were carried out at the Royal Agricultural College, Cirencester, in the treatment of subsoil by high explosives. The idea is to explode cheddite cartridges at a depth of about 3ft. to break up the subsoil and underlying rock, improving the drainage, and loosening the subsoil for the roots. The ground thus treated is to be planted with potatoes, and careful observations and comparisons will be made of their growth and yield.

- 1.—Watching the operations.
- 2.—Making holes with iron crowbar for the cartridges. Mr. Conzons, of Messrs. Curtis and Harvey's, is on right holding cartridges.

- 3.—Lighting fuse.
- 4.—Students watching work carried out.
- 5.—Exploding a charge, breaking up subsoil and rock to enable water from stagnant ditch to percolate into soil.

- 6.—Exploding charges in plot to be planted with potatoes.
- 7.—A heavy charge. Too close to be pleasant. Note: These charges (40zs.) were found to be too strong for this soil.

- 8.—Professor J. R. Ainsworth-Davis, M.A. (Principal of College), Mr. H. W. Ely (Acting Agent-General for Tasmania), and Professor Drysdale Turner.
- 9.—Professor D. Turner explaining process.

BEAUTY PRIZE COMPETITION.

At Poole's Picture Palace, Cheltenham, a competition was held last week for the prettiest schoolgirl in Cheltenham. Our photograph shows the last nine left in. The winner is Dorothy Smith (aged 11), seated in centre with a big doll (first prize, presented by Pharos, who is standing at back); second prize, a huge teddy bear, was won by Katie Morley (aged 3), who is sitting behind it; and third prize was taken by Zena Winning (aged 6), who is sitting next to first prize-winner. PALMER'S HALFPENNY MEALS AT GLOUCESTER.

For the ninth season, Mr. E. J. C. Palmer, Hopewell-street, Gloucester, on Friday last, November 29, 1912, commenced his series of halfpenny meals to out-of-work and distressed Gloucesterians. A breakfast is provided every morning from 9.15 to 10.15, and a tea every afternoon. Although the meals cost something over twopence each, the recipients are only charged a halfpenny; and for his philanthropy Mr. Palmer relies on the assistance of charitable fellow-townsmen, the cost of labour and rent being nil.

A GROUP OF WORKERS.

Back Row.—Mr. E. J. C. Palmer (the promoter), Mr. J. Hall, Mr. P. Prosser, Mr. J. Griffiths. Seated.—Mrs. Trenfield, Miss Spence.

A REMARKABLE FISH.

The above photograph shows a brill which was delivered last week to Messrs. Charles Barnett and Son, the well known fishmongers and poulterers, of 86 High-street and Montpellier-walk, Cheltenham. Usually a dull drab, this particular fish was beautifully spotted, practically piebald, in fact.

We have received a copy of "Nature Photography," by Stanley C. Johnson, M.A., and a very interesting little book it is, too, especially to nature lovers who combine with their affection the hobby of photography. The author gives full instructions how to set about the work of "taking" living fish, flowers, reptiles, birds, and river, sea, and pond life, well illustrated by his own work. Amongst other illustrations is a living pike, snails, beetles, spiders, and even a centipede, all taken in their natural surroundings. It is published by the "Amateur Photographer," and is sold at the modest price of 1s.

RUGBY COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH AT GLOUCESTER.

ON SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1912, GLOUCESTERSHIRE PLAYED CORNWALL AT GLOUCESTER. MUCH DEPENDED ON THIS MATCH, AS WHOEVER WON IT WERE PRETTY CERTAIN TO WIN THE SOUTH-WESTERN CHAMPIONSHIP, AND BY GLOUCESTERSHIRE WINNING AS THEY DID BY 15PTS. TO 11PTS., THEY MADE THEIR SCORE UNBEATABLE, AND WILL NOW HAVE TO PLAY THE MIDLAND COUNTIES AND YORKSHIRE FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF ENGLAND.

CHELTENHAM OLD BOYS' RUGBY FOOTBALL TEAM.

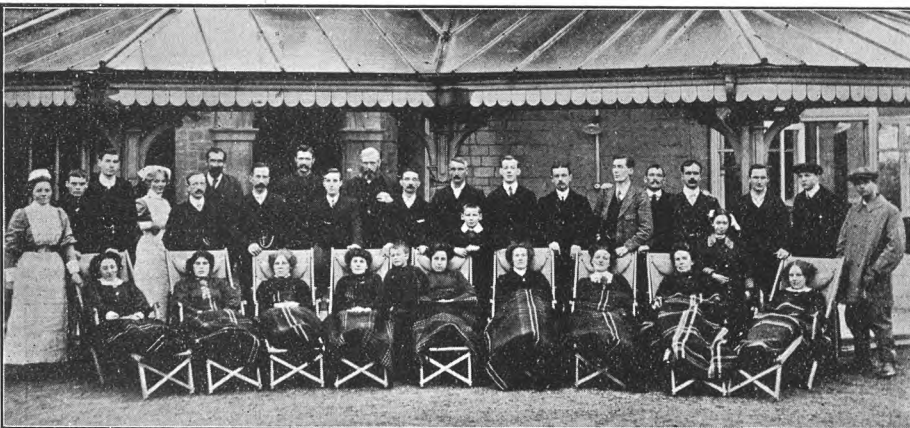

This team is proving a most useful organisation as a stepping-stone for the clever boys who are turned out of the public elementary school football teams to get into the adult teams of the town, and even into the Town team itself. Cherrington, Johnny Webb, and Bloodworth are instances of Town players who came out of the C.O.B. team.

BLIND WITHOUT KNOWING IT.

During the hearing of a claim under the Workmen's Compensation Act at Southport on Tuesday, amazing evidence was given by Liverpool ophthalmic specialists regarding eyesight. Dr. T. Stephenson, of St. Paul's Eye Hospital, said it was not unknown for people to be blind in one eye for years without finding it out. Dr. Edgar Stephenson said he knew of a man being blind from birth, and for forty years, in one eye without knowing it.

A BRAVE POLICEMAN.

Addressing Police-Constable Garrett, who descended a well 100 feet deep in the village of Boughton Monchewa, near Maidstone, on the night of October 22 and rescued Minnie May Smith, the chairman of the Bearsted magistrates, on Monday said they regarded his act as the bravest they remembered, and they would recommend him for recognition by the Carnegie Fund. The rescued girl was charged with attempted suicide and was discharged.

DEERHURST'S NEW VICAR.

The induction of the new vicar of Deerhurst (Rev. John Griffen) by the Bishop of Gloucester (Dr. E. C. S. Gibson) took place on Tuesday afternoon in the old Saxon church at Deerhurst, in the presence of a good congregation. The Bishop was attended by Archdeacon Scobell, and the Rural Dean (Canon Wardell-Yerburgh), and there were also present Archdeacon Winter (Tewkesbury), the Revs. N. D. M. Crossman, G. E. Webster, B. H. Chambers, C. B. Mirrlees, Jackson, and Lister. The last-named conducted the service to the 3rd collect. Canon Wardell-Yerburgh and Archdeacon Scobell read the lessons. After the 3rd collect the license was read by the Bishop, and the declaration and oaths were made by the Vicar. The induction and exhortation followed. The Bishop's address was based on the words, "The Master is come and calleth for thee" (John xi, 28).

THE FATHER OF THE "GLOUCESTERSHIRE" AND THREE DESCENDING GENERATIONS.

Mr. Wm. Mouldsdale, of 9 Devonshire-street, Cheltenham, aged 87; his son, Charles Mouldsdale, aged 62 (foreman of Gloucester Docks); his grandson, William Mouldsdale, aged 39, of Gloucester; and his great-grandson, Charles Mouldsdale, aged 20, now in the Gloucestershire Regiment. William Mouldsdale, sen., joined the Gloucestershires in 1844, serving in the Crimea, and holds medals for Alma, Inkerman, and Sebastopol, and a Turkish Government medal. He left the service in 1856 with two good conduct medals, and has lived in Cheltenham since 1861. He is still in good preservation, and retains an excellent memory, enabling him to fully describe the battles he fought in. He has five sons and four daughters still living, and all doing well, 54 grandchildren, and 15 great-grandchildren. The whole family bear excellent characters, and William Mouldsdale, the founder, may look upon his life as a credit to his country and his King.

A CHELTONIAN IN SWAZILAND.

To the Editor of the "Chronicle and Graphic."
 Sir,—I am sending you a photo of myself. I am an Old Cheltonian, having come out here for the war with the A.S.C. During all my wanderings in Africa—and I have travelled a deal—I never have had the pleasure of meeting one from my native town. I see the Rugby team are going strong this season. But when are they going to hold the County Championship? I am brother to J. W. Morgan, of 7 Jersey-place, and son of Mrs. Morgan, Luxor Villa, King's-road. I am at present gold mining and prospecting in this country. I will endeavour to get you a few photos of native life.
