BELGIAN REFUGEES IN CHELTENHAM.

Two parties of twenty each of refugees from various parts of Belgium, driven out by the Germans, homeless and absolutely without means, having lost all, although previously in comfortable business circumstances, are now quartered in Cheltenham. One party of good class business people are housed at Western Lodge, Western-road, and another party, composed more of the industrial community, are at St. Philip's Lodge, Grafton-road. The houses are lent rent free, and an amount sufficient to keep the homes going for food is subscribed by charitable persons in the town.

The St. Philip's Lodge party, together with three Cheltenham ladies, who are assisting the movement. Miss Plumer, the hon. sec., is seated in front with her dog.

FIGHTING 16 HOURS A DAY!

Those dreadful days when the artillery of five German Army Corps—eight hundred and thirty guns—were concentrated on General Smith-Dorrien's exhausted men proved one of the turning points in the war's history. One of the gallant officers wounded in the great retreat has kindly informed us that our Service wrist watch, worn by him all through the terrible ordeal, has gone splendidly. Many of our Service watches are now in use on the field. You could not have a better watch or give your friend or relative a more acceptable present. May we show you one?

A FATAL MISTAKE!

To lose one's sight means the shutting out of all the beauties of nature—the pleasures of reading, of travel, of sport,—in fact life loses all its charm. Everybody in time becomes conscious of a slight defect in eyesight—the eyes become tired after reading—occasional headaches and dizziness take place. What a fatal mistake it is to neglect these symptoms—only those who have suffered through them know too full well. We will tell you frankly if you require glasses and will be equally frank if you don't.—WAITE AND SON, Opticians 349 High Street, Cheltenham.

BELGIAN WOUNDED SOLDIERS ARRIVE IN CHELTENHAM.

ON WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 21, FIFTY-FIVE WOUNDED BELGIAN SOLDIERS ARRIVED BY G.W.R. IN CHELTENHAM. THEY WERE AT ONCE CONVEYED BY PRIVATE MOTORS TO NEW COURT, LANSDOWN-ROAD, WHICH HAS BEEN KINDLY LENT BY MR. J. FLEMING (OF THAT ADDRESS), AND WHICH MAKES A MAGNIFICENT HOSPITAL. THE MEN ARE MORE OR LESS CONVALESCENT, AND ARE OF VARIOUS REGIMENTS. TWO OF THEM WERE WEARING ENGLISH SOLDIERS' CAPS, HAVING LOST THEIR OWN.

- 1.—Wearing a British soldier's cap.
- 2.—Carrying a bad case in from the horse ambulance. (There were only two very bad cases.)
- 3.—Riding alone in his glory (with two crutches).
- 4.—Looking merry already.
- 5.—Convalescent.
- 6.—The man wearing English cap spoke quite good English. He was wounded at Roulers.
- 7 and 8.—Two more contingents.
- 9.—First man at the hospital, apparently bad head injuries.
- 10.—The motors arriving at New Court.

SOLDIERS AT FOOTBALL.

On Saturday, Oct. 17, the men of the 5th Batt. (Reserve) Gloucester Regiment, now training in Gloucester, played a Rugby football match against the men of the Reserve Regiment of Royal Gloucestershire Hussars Yeomanry, also training and billeted in the old city. The match took place on the Kingsholm Football Ground, and as the 5th played in the Gloucester jerseys, it had all the appearance of one of the famous City club games, especially as the passing and running of the side was splendid. The 5th were much too good for the Yeomanry, and won by 25 points to four.

- 1.—The 5th Gloucester team and “supporters.”
- 2.—Two lady collectors and a victim.
- 3.—Some of the Yeomanry.
- 4.—Spectators.

Working for the Belgians.

Two Malvern ladies, who desire to remain anonymous, have been collecting in the Cheltenham and Gloucester streets this week. They are dressed in Italian costume and have a barrel organ, which they play, and are accompanied by two delightful little monkeys and a French poodle. Needless to add, they are reaping a rich harvest for a most deserving cause.
