A CHELTENHAM CURATE'S WEDDING.

A very pretty and interesting wedding took place on September 30 at Emmanuel, Plymouth, when Rev. A. J. Wilcox, ex-chaplain of the Forces, who has been this week re-appointed permanent Chaplain to the Forces, from the curacy of St. Paul's, Cheltenham, was married to Miss Esme Flora Dawe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. T. Dawe, of Glenroy, Mannamead, Plymouth. The bridegroom, who is the son of the late Mr. F. H. Wilcox, of Cheltenham, was chaplain of the Worcestershire Yeomanry in the early days of the war, and was captured at Katia, Palestine, on Easter Sunday, 1916, remaining a prisoner of war in the hands of the Turks until the Armistice in 1918.

FIRE BRIGADE COMPETITION AT SUNNINGEND WORKS, CHELTENHAM.

The employees of Sunningend Works (formerly Gloucestershire Aircraft Co.) held a competition on Saturday, October 25th, for members of their private Fire Brigade. The work was carried out very smartly, and the competitions for one-man, three-men, and six-men drills were very keen indeed.

1.—Competitors and spectators.

2.—Officials.

3.—A curious snap—one of the competitors appearing to have only one leg.

4.—Officials.

5.—Critics.

6.—Jack Grinham, the old footballer, in the one-man drill.

7.—Competitors in six-men drill starting off their mark.

8 and 9.—Wet drill—"fring" at the targets. (Photos by Cheltenham Newspaper Co., Ltd.)

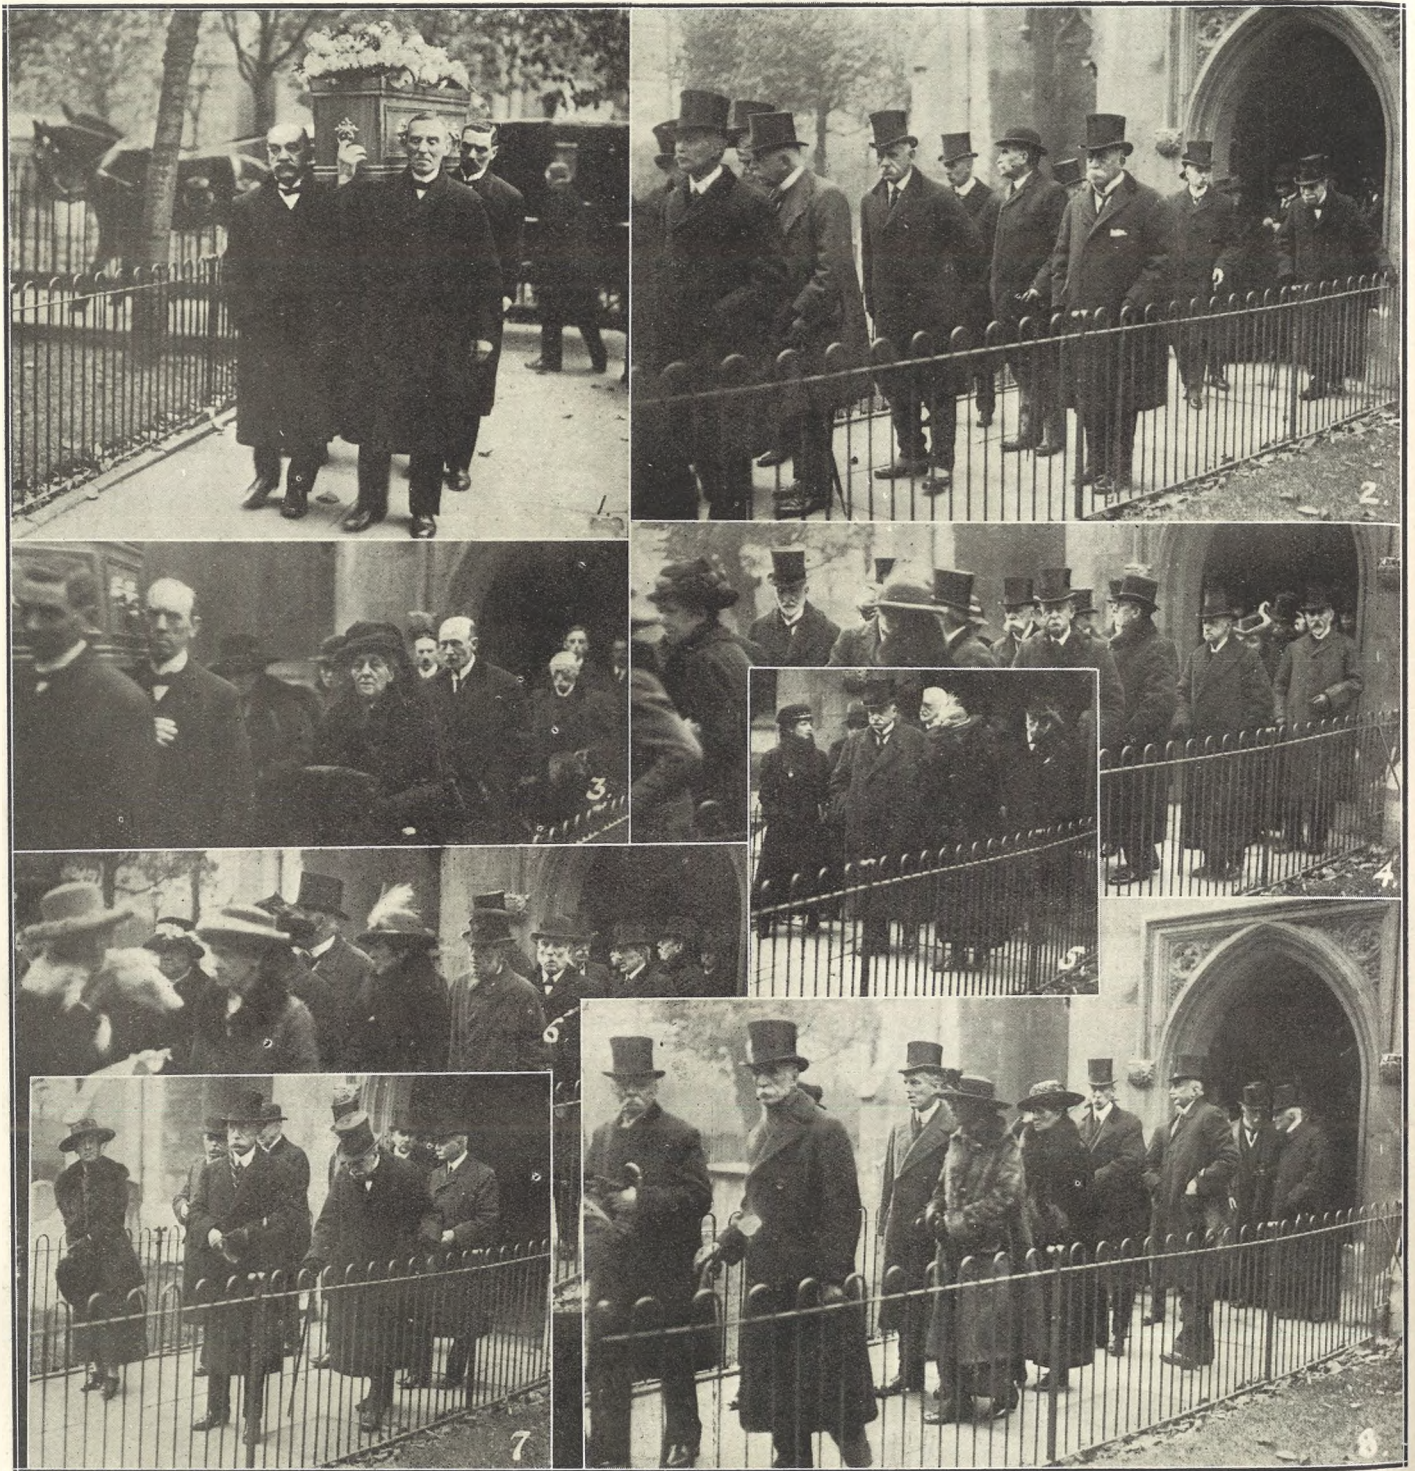

ROUND THE TOWN.

Cheltenham Promenade is a never-failing source for interesting "snaps," and our photographer this week sallied forth to his happy hunting ground with the following results. The "victims" were all "shot" without being aware of it.

- 1.—Two Cheltenham tradesmen having a chat.
- 2.—A doggy picture, or the prevention of a fight.
- 3.—Carrying their own parcels.
- 4.—A charming snap.
- 5.—Just off home.
- 6.—A confidential chat.
- 7.—Rev. Bayfield Roberts, of Uckington.
- 8.—Nice and "comfy."

FUNERAL OF THE LATE MR. H. S. LEMON, CHELTHENHAM PARISH CHURCH, OCTOBER 29.

- 1.—Carrying the coffin into the Parish Church.
- 2.—Many well-known Cheltenham mourners, among others Mr. C. J. Tinson, Col. Stevenson, Dr. Hebblethwaite, and Lt-Gen. M. Willoughby.
- 3.—Mrs. Lemon (immediately behind coffin) and family mourners.
- 4.—Mr. Dewar, Col. Churchill, Mr. Currie, Mr. de Sausmarez, Mr. Mellersh, and others coming out of church.
- 5.—Mr. H. Unwin and others.
- 6.—Ald. Horsley and Dr. Howell amongst a group of mourners.
- 7.—General Willoughby, Lt-Gen. M. Willoughby, and Mr. T. H. Packer.
- 8.—General Hogg, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rogers, Messrs. Pearce, E. B. Wethered, C. J. Tinson, and H. G. Maby.

THE COTSWOLD HOUNDS' OPENING MEET.

This famous pack held its opening meet under the auspices of the new master, Capt. Muir, at his beautiful home on the slopes of Cleeve Hill, Postlip Hall. It was a glorious hunting morning, and the scene at the meet was brilliant in the extreme. Capt. and Mrs. Muir dispensed hospitality to all comers on traditional lines, and the 1919-20 season had a splendid send-off.

- 1.—Capt. Muir, M.F.H. (second from left), with the Hunt servants and pack.
- 2.—Col. Watkins Yardley chatting to the Master.
- 3.—Capt. Muir's little son.
- 4.—C. Beacham (huntsman), on a fine grey hunter, taking a stirrup cup.
- 5.—Capt. Muir's little daughter on her Shetland pony, with her nurse.
- 6.—Three officers out for a day's hunting in uniform.

[Photos by Cheltenham Newspaper Co., Ltd., from whom copies can be obtained on application.]

"A HUNTING WE WILL GO."

Further snaps of the Cotswold opening meet on Tuesday morning. A great feature was the splendid quality of the horses, the Hunt servants all riding magnificent animals, the Master himself being astride a glorious hunter that should be able to give his field the lead.

- 7.—Mr. H. Unwin and Mrs. Arthur Herbert.
- 8.—Mr. Peel, the secretary.
- 9.—Capt. Carson Parker.
- 10.—Col. Harford and Mr. Theobald (late secretary of the Hunt).

- 11.—Eager to be off.
- 12.—The pack arrive from over Cleeve Hill.
- 13.—Spectators.

- 14.—Waiting for father. Mr. Preston Jones' little boy on a Shetland.
- 15.—The meet. The Master is standing with the pack.

THE GREAT SILENCE.

On Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 11 o'clock a.m., the first anniversary of the 11th hour of the eleventh day of the 11th month (at which the Armistice was signed a year ago), at the expressed wish of the King the whole of the Empire ceased all work and noise for two minutes in remembrance of the glorious dead who perished in the Great War. A crowd assembled just before 11 o'clock at the corner of the Promenade, and as the hooter signalled the hour the silence that fell was almost uncanny. All men stood uncovered, and the only sound heard was a baby crying, a dog barking, and the click of our photographer's shutter as he snapped the scene. All vehicular traffic stopped.

A GIRL GUIDE'S WEDDING.

An interesting wedding took place at St. Paul's Church, Cheltenham, on November 5, when a girl lieutenant of the Cheltenham Girl Guides was married, and her comrades lined the walk as she came out of church and formed an arch with their staves. The bride's name was Miss V. B. Wright, daughter of Mrs. A. Wright, of 14 Courtenay-street, St. Paul's; the bridegroom was Mr. J. C. Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Long, of 139 Thomas-street, Abertridwr, S. Wales.

LIGHTS OUT!

An amusing story is related by a Cheltonian in which he says that while at the front one night the call went for "lights out" at 10 o'clock. Seeing a light, the sergeant shouted, "Put that cigarette out," and as there was no response he proceeded to enforce the order. Imagine the sergeant's surprise on finding that the supposed cigarette light was none other than the glow from the luminous watch worn by the innocent soldier. The watch was one of Messrs. Waite and Son's genuine Radio dial watches, which goes to prove their wonderful illuminating power. Buy a genuine Radio luminous watch and buy it of Messrs. Waite and Son, Watch-makers, 349 High Street, Cheltenham.

LIGHTS OUT!

An amusing story is related by a Cheltonian in which he says that while at the front one night the call went for "lights out" at 10 o'clock. Seeing a light, the sergeant shouted, "Put that cigarette out," and as there was no response he proceeded to enforce the order. Imagine the sergeant's surprise on finding that the supposed cigarette light was none other than the glow from the luminous watch worn by the innocent soldier. The watch was one of Messrs. Waite and Son's genuine Radio dial watches, which goes to prove their wonderful illuminating power. Buy a genuine Radio luminous watch and buy it of Messrs. Waite and Son, Watch-makers, 349 High Street, Cheltenham.

ROUND THE TOWN.

A further series of snaps of anybody and everybody taken promiscuously as they walked in the streets of Cheltenham. All were quite unconscious that they had been snapped, and will be surprised, no doubt, to find themselves "immortalised" in our pages.

We propose to give a page each week, so that you will never know but what yours may appear next week.

- 1.—Two gentlemen in High-street.
- 2.—Making for home and luncheon.
- 3.—Taking a stroll in High-street.
- 4, 5, and 6.—Snaps in High-street on Tuesday morning.
- 7.—A gossip
- 8.—A well-known Cheltenham porter.
- 9.—Do they fear the camera?
- 10.—Another little gossip party.
- 11.—A snap of the Promenade on Tuesday afternoon.

WINNING A RUNNING MATCH AT 69 YEARS OF AGE.

Two sporting little foot races took place before a limited and select "gallery" on Wednesday morning at Kayte Farm, Southam. As the outcome of two other recent events, a match of £5 a side was arranged between Mr. Frank Burroughs, of Kayte Farm, aged 69 years, and Mr. Fred Tovey, aged 30, the younger man to give the other a yard for every year's difference in age in a hundred yards race. As will be seen, youth could not do it. Then "Jack" Burroughs raced Mr. Smith, the latter to give ten yards in a hundred. This Jack won easily.

- 1.—The two winners, Mr. Frank Burroughs and his son Jack.
- 2.—Good old Frank wins in a canter, his competitor not in sight.
- 3.—Some of the spectators.
- 4.—Jack beats his man by ten yards, who stops to scratch his head.
- 5.—Frank Burroughs shows his agility at 69 years by jumping his walking stick.
- 6.—Dressing after the races.
