PICTURESQUE GLOUCESTERSHIRE: TEWKESBURY.

A further set of "bits" of Tewkesbury, many of whose delightful old houses were published in our issue of last Saturday. There are innumerable examples for the artist and photographer in this historical old town, and a peep down many of the quaint old alleys and courts, which are such a feature of the place, amply repays one. 12.—A view of the Abbey from the East delightful garden, and it is not com- 13.—Old houses in one of the courts, 15.—The old Academy, High-street. End. It is taken from Mr. Brown's monly seen.

14.—King John's Bridge and the Old Bear in distance.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS IN CHELTENHAM.

- There was very little apparent interest in the Elections on Tuesday last although there were contests in four of the wards.
- 1.—In centre seat is Mrs. Eager fetching up lady voters for her husband in the East Ward, where he was defeated by Mr. J. P. Pates.
  - 2.—Mr. J. F. Ward (Lab.) (in centre) with some of his workers in the North Ward, where he recorded 531 votes, but was defeated.
  - 3.—Mr. F. H. Bastin (C.) (on right) bringing up a lady voter in a side-car.
  - 4.—Mr. E. Eager (Ind.) (second from left) with his working party at committee rooms.
  - 5.—Mr. J. P. Pates on tour in the East. Names (from left): Messrs. Palmer, J. P. Pates (elected), Ayres, Judson (driving), and E. Dicks.
  - 6 and 7.—Lady voters in the North Ward at the Polling Stations.
  - 8.—Even the boys enjoy the fun outside Mr. Pates's committee rooms.
  - 9.—Mr Yarnold (standing) with voters for Mr. Yeend in the North Ward.

OPENING MEET OF THE COTSWOLD HOUNDS.

- Held as usual at the Master's residence, Postlip Hall, on Wednesday, November 2nd to a large number of members, farmers, and their wives, and friends. It was, unluckily, very cold and wet.
- 1.—The Master, Mr M. W. Muir, with his little girl and boy on their ponies, and his stud groom, Mr. Prizeman.
  - 2.—Some of the real supporters. In front are: R. W. Edwards, Geo. Hannis, Geo. Witcombe and his little boy, and John Brookes
  - 3.—Mr. Brown taking a stirrup cup. Mr Frank Humphries and Mr. Preston Jones talking to him.
  - 4.—Mrs. Guise, of Hayden.
  - 5.—Miss Betty Humphries, with Mr. Tom Mr. and Mrs. Muir dispensing hospitality
  - 6.—A lady chatting to Mr. Brain.
  - 7.—Capt. Balfour, Mr. Balfour, Mr. Preston Jones, and the Master.
  - 8.—Petting a pal's mount.

COUNTY FOOTBALL TRIAL MATCH AT STONEHOUSE.

An Association match between teams selected from the North and South of the County was played at Stonehouse on Saturday last before a good crowd. The game was a very good one, the South winning by 3 goals to 2; but the score would have been far heavier but for the good goalkeeping of Abbott, the Cheltenham Town player.

- 1.—The Northern team.
- 2.—A. Abbott (Cheltenham) saves a fine shot at goal.
- 3 and 6.—Spectators, mostly from Stonehouse.
- 4.—Abbott saves a penalty kick. The ball can be seen half-way between him and the Southern forward.
- 5.—Some of the County Selection Committee.
- 7.—Another fine save of Abbott's, tipping the ball over the bar.

STRIKE ON CHELTENHAM AND DISTRICT LIGHT RAILWAY.

On Saturday morning last the whole of the Cheltenham Tram employees came out on strike owing to a dispute over the lengthening of their hours of work and a slight reduction of wages. On Wednesday morning new hands were being taken on, and a commencement was made to instruct them in driving and conducting.

- 1.—A group of the employees on strike outside the depot on Wednesday morning, when new hands were being taken on.
- 2.—Giving instruction to would-be drivers.
- 3.—One tram collided with another while in charge of a new hand. The arrow points to damage done.
- 4.—Unemployed waiting to see the manager.
- 5.—Some of the employees outside Strike Committee Rooms in High-street.
- 6.—Mr. McCormick in centre engaging new hands.

"REMEMBRANCE" DAY IN GLOUCESTER.

For the "Great Silence" on Friday, November 11th, some thousands assembled at the Cross, Gloucester, and stood reverently, the men uncovered, until the two minutes had passed. Then buglers of the 5th Gloucesters sounded the Last Post. The Mayor then inaugurated a "long, long, trail" (of pennies) in aid of the "Palmer" Fund for Soldiers and Sailors, which has realised practically £1,000.

- 1.—The scene on the Cross during the two minutes' Silence, taken from Messrs. Mann and Son's window.
- 2.—In front of the Comrades' Club, Westgate-street. The design was carried out in pennies.

- 3.—The Mayor and Mayoress in centre, starting the trail of pennies on the pavement in Eastgate-street.

- 4.—Collectors shovelling up the money.
- 5.—Outside the Gloucester Club, where silver coins mixed with the pennies.

SHERBORNE WAR MEMORIAL UNVEILED.

On Saturday afternoon last, in beautiful sunny weather, Lord Sherbourne unveiled the Sherbourne War Memorial, before a large congregation of villagers and friends.

- 1.—The Memorial Cross. It is executed in Clipsham stone, designed by Mr. Thorpe, of Oxford, and is fixed in a fine commanding position near the schools.
- 2.—The congregation, headed by Rev. C. W. Emeriss (Burford), Rev. Hobbs (Bourton), and Lord Sherborne (in uniform) in procession from Church to Memorial.
- 3, 4 and 5.—Parishioners at the Unveiling Ceremony.
- 6.—Lord Sherborne and Rev. C. W. Emeriss consulting over the service.
- 7.—Lord Sherborne depositing a laurel wreath.
- 8.—Lady Sherborne (x) at the service.

PICTURESQUE GLOUCESTERSHIRE—UPPER SLAUGHTER.

By a most picturesque walk of about two miles from Bourton-on-the-Water, through Lower Slaughter, across fields and wending one's way alongside a pretty trout stream, Upper Slaughter is reached, and well repays one for a visit. The old Manor House, one of the finest of its kind in the country, the tree-enshrouded church, the Little valley with its stream below the church, and the old stone cottages, make a charming and secluded village.

1.—The Manor House, now the residence of Capt. Willes. It is a glorious example of an old Cotswold Manor House, and is 2.—A corner of the hall of the Manor House.

3.—A view of the valley and stream below the church. The rectory is on the left.

4.—The Square, a peculiar feature of this village.

CHEL TENHAM RACES.

- The November two-day meeting was held on Tuesday and Wednesday last, the first day being very fine, but Wednesday was wet and cold. Large fields were seen out, and the racing was particularly interesting.
- 1.—The Sale Ring after the second race on Tuesday; "The Last" in the Ring.
  - 2.—A "furry" day on Tuesday.
  - 3.—A lucky party—apparently. Miss Scott of Nether Swell, on extreme right.
  - 4.—Three ladies in Paddock.
  - 5.—A nurse with three of the ex-soldiers from St. Dunstan's, who appeared to enjoy the racing immensely.
  - 6.—Frank Wootton on Nonchalante, after winning the Southam Selling Hurdle Race.
  - 7.—Snapped in the Paddock.

People of Moderate Means

now have a choice of the two most famous types of

THE

'Pianola' Piano

WEBER MODEL 80.

STECK MODEL 9H.

These instruments are representative of the excellent tone qualities that make the Weber and Steck Pianos famous throughout the world, and are replete with the exclusive and patented devices for personal expression, which give the 'Pianola' its premier position.

They are among the first grade of Æolian Instruments, yet they are now made accessible to those of moderate income through the vast productive capacity of the enlarged factories at Hayes, Middlesex.

Either is obtainable on the most reasonable system of instalments, and your present piano will be accepted in part exchange for either instruments by the Sole Agents.

PICTURESQUE GLOUCESTERSHIRE—LOWER SLAUGHTER.

A pretty walk of only a mile to the North of Bourton-on-the-Water brings us to this charming little Cotswold village, and a mile further on is the equally picturesque Upper Slaughter. These villages are nestled away off the main roads, and are consequently very little known, but their old-world stone houses, the trout streams flowing through their main streets, and their avenues of trees will repay a visit, so easily made from Bourton.

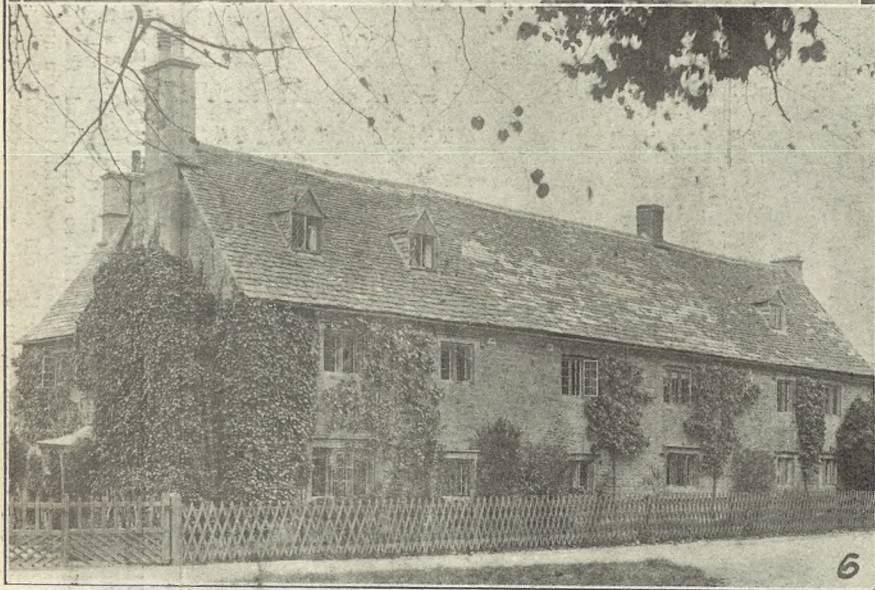

1—The trout stream in village street, with two of the rustic bridges. The trees were a mass of colours when photographed last week.

2—Looking down the main street from Old Mill.

3—The village green with fountain and seat under the old elm.

4—Looking towards Bourton-on-the-Water.

[Photos by Cheltenham Newspaper Co., Ltd., from whom copies can be obtained, size 8 x 6 inches, unmounted 1/9, mounted 2/6, postage extra.]

PICTURESQUE GLOUCESTERSHIRE—LOWER SLAUGHTER.

Both Upper and Lower Slaughter are famous for their ducks, and a large number of fine specimens can always be seen and heard on the streams in the villages.

5.—Ducks in stream in centre of village. 6—A row of Cotswold cottages.
