GLOUCESTER DEFEATED BY BRISTOL AT KINGSHOLM.

In a deluge of rain on Saturday last, these old rivals played a desperately-fought match at Kingsholm, Bristol winning by seven points to five. The game was confined to forward play, the backs only shining in defence.

- 1.—Owing to the weather, everybody crowded into the covered stands, and scarcely fifty were outside in the terrific rain.
- 2.—A few who braved it out.
- 3.—Lillierap, Pickles (a brother of the old international "R.C.W.") and Burland, of Bristol.

- 4.—Bristol (marked with letters) were especially good in the line out.
- 5.—A terrific tussle for the ball.
- 6.—Another view of the crowded stand.
- 7.—Burland with the ball. He kicked magnificently.

INTERESTING CHELTENHAM WEDDING.

The marriage took place at Cheltenham Parish Church, on Tuesday, Oct. 15, of Mr. Leslie John Lee, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lee, of The Old Manor, Manningford Bruce, Marlborough, to Miss Beckie Kelsey Stewart, daughter of Mr. Alex and the late Mrs. Stewart, of Ailsa Craig, Ontario, Canada, and niece of Mrs. Cowing, Berkeley House, Cheltenham. The bride, with her aunt and bridesmaids, entering the church. The bridegroom is inset (left) and best man, Mr. G. R. Lee (brother), inset right.

KARLSBAD TO CHELTENHAM.

The Rotary Wheel brought by Mr. E. J. Burrow from Karlsbad and handed over at the dinner on Tuesday night. The inscription is as follows:—“This Rotary Wheel in Czecho-Slovak Porcelain ware was presented by the Rotary Club of Karlsbad, the Spa of Central Europe, to the Rotary Club of Cheltenham, the Sister Spa of Britain, as a sign of Friendship and Goodwill. August, 1929.”

MRS. ISABELLA S. MEYRICK-JONES, widow of Rev. G. M. Meyrick-Jones, of Hendre, Overton Park-road, Cheltenham, who died on Monday, Oct. 14th, aged 94 years. She lived for many years at Stanley House, Stonehouse, and was the mother of Dr. Meyrick-Jones, formerly of Cheltenham.

THE MODERN STYLE IN WINDOW DISPLAY.

The above photo of the window which gained third prize for Messrs. Williams and Co., the well-known Cutlers, of Winchcombe Street, in the “Things to Use” section of the recent Competition promoted by the Cheltenham Display Association, shows how attractive is the display of a few items rather than the filling up of every available inch of space, which used to be the ideal. Messrs. Williams and Co. are pleased with their success, as their window is quite small. Their customers are equally pleased with the cutlery and other goods retailed.

CHELTENHAM'S NEW BEAUTY SPOT.

Two of the entrances to Sandford Park, another of the lovely open spaces for which Cheltenham is so famous. The top picture shows the Lily Pond and paths at the Bath-road entrance, a beautiful bit of landscape architecture, redounding to the credit of Mr. White's designs. If the big brick wall in Bath-road were substituted by open railings, more of this pretty bit would be seen. The fine railings and gates in the lower picture are placed at the High-street entrance, which has not yet been opened to the public. These railings and gates were executed by Messrs. R. E. and C. Marshall, Ltd., of 5 Clarence Street, Cheltenham.
