LIFE ON A COTSWOLD ESTATE —AT SEZINCOTE HOUSE

A most interesting description of the experiences of rural life as it was and as it is now, was given on the Midland Regional broadcast, on Monday night, by the owner's son and workers on the estate of Col. Arthur Dugdale, C.M.G., D.S.O., J.P., of Sezincote House, Gloucestershire. Mr. John Dugdale, who acted as compère, described the estate of 3,000 acres, and the members of the staff described their various jobs. The mansion is a very handsome one, with beautiful pleasure grounds, and a fine lake, and although up-to-date methods are used in the work it is nevertheless reminiscent of feudal days.

- 1.—Mr. Walter Riley, manager of the poultry farm.
- 2.—A view of the mansion.
- 3.—Mr. Charles Collins, the estate forester.
- 4.—Col. Arthur Dugdale, the owner.
- 5.—Mr. Paul Tuffley, the estate drainer.

The SHOW
HOUSE in QUEEN'S RD.
CHELTENHAM
 opens
To-morrow

For a period of three weeks from February 10, one of those attractive modern houses just built on the Queen's-road, by Mr. G. A. M. Hall, and which has been fully fitted and furnished by local firms, will be open for inspection between the hours of 10 a.m. and 9 p.m., and a cordial invitation to view is extended to all. Buses from the Promenade pass the door every twenty minutes. Space does not allow for full particulars being given here, but it should be mentioned that the house contains four bedrooms, two reception rooms, kitchen, larder, coal house, built-in garage, together with all other modern conveniences including gas and electric light and power. This and other houses of a similar character can be purchased out of income by arrangement with the Cheltenham and Gloucester Building Society, and Messrs. John Lance and Co., Ltd., who are responsible for the furnishing, have also a system of deferred payment for goods supplied, which is the simplest and most convenient of its kind. Other firms who are co-operating in this interesting exhibition are the Cheltenham Gas Company, with a "New World" cooker with Regulo-controlled oven, and several other labour-saving and economic examples of the uses of gas; Messrs. Sharpe and Fisher, who are responsible for the beautiful and inexpensive tiled fireplaces which add to the attractiveness of the house; Messrs. Elliott Brothers, who supplied the sand and gravel used in construction; and Messrs. James Cypher and Sons (garden work). Messrs. Leishman and Copeland, Regent-street, are the agents dealing with these properties for Mr. Hall, and they will be pleased to supply full particulars on request.

Printed and published as a Gratis Supplement by the Cheltenham Newspaper Co., Ltd.

STARTING THE NEW TOWN CLOCK
 Top.—The clock, which has a new face, has had the old works entirely removed and is now run by electricity.
 Centre.—The deputy foreman (left), general foreman (centre), and Mr. E. Rooke, local manager, Woolworth's.
 Below.—The Mayor of Cheltenham (Councillor E. L. Ward), who started the clock; Mr. G. H. Hodges, district superintendent of Messrs. Woolworth's; Mr. Kenneth Waite (managing director of Messrs. R. F. Beard, Ltd., who supervised the work), behind; and Mr. W. J. Bache (Borough Electrical Engineer).

The new Town Clock is now controlled by a Synchronome Master Clock, a very ingenious device of switch and pendulum which ensures constant accuracy.

This system is ideal for Stores, Offices, Works, etc., as any number of dials can be uniformly served by this one control.

MESSRS. R. F. BEARD, LTD., of the Promenade, Cheltenham, are the local agents and will be pleased to give full particulars and estimates for installation free of charge.

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH, COLWYN BAY

The reredos and other woodwork of this church have recently been completed by Messrs. R. L. Boulton and Sons, of Bath-road, Cheltenham. The figures on each side of the Last Supper group represent St. George and St. Trillo, the latter being a Medieval Welsh saint to whom the parish church was dedicated. The design is by L. W. Barnard and Partners, the church having been built from competition design by Mr. L. W. Barnard, F.R.I.B.A., in 1911. These additions mark the completion of a large scheme which has occupied over twenty years.
