WEDDING OF MISS IRIS BURTON IN CHELTENHAM

Miss Iris Patricia Burton has long been connected with the Girl Guide movement in Cheltenham, and she is one of the best known pianists in the town. Many people attended her wedding at St. Paul's, and the reception at Pittville Pump Rooms last week.

1.—The bride's father (second from right) with three of his friends. 2.—Guests at the reception. 3.—The bridal and family group. 4.—Many of the guests on steps of Pittville Pump Rooms.

"Cheltenham Chronicle" Photographs. Copies 1s. and 1s. 9d.

BEAUTIFUL CARVING AT FLORAL FETE

One of the exhibits which attracted much attention in the Arts and Crafts Tent at Cheltenham Floral Fete last week was that of Messrs. R. L. Boulton and Sons, sculptors, of Bath-road, Cheltenham. This old-established firm, specimens of whose art are to be found in many parts of the world, had some of their best craftsmen carving work actually on order. Completed examples of other commissions were inspected with great interest, and visitors were reminded of how the name of Cheltenham is carried overseas, as well as in the British Isles, by the work which Messrs. Boulton and Sons have been privileged to execute. Expert advice, assistance and suggestions are always available to prospective clients.

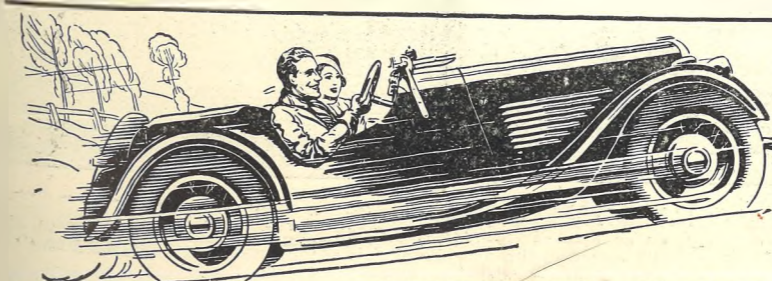

FOLK DANCE FESTIVAL AT PITTVILLE GARDENS

The Gloucestershire branch of the English Folk Dance and Song Society held their annual festival on Saturday at Pittville Gardens, Cheltenham. They met at the Fountain, Promenade, and danced from there to Pittville headed by a massed pipe band.

1.—The dancing in progress, Pittville Pump Room forming an appropriate background. 2 and 4.—Some of the Cheltenham dancers. 3.—The procession in the Promenade, headed by drums.

CHELTENHAM COLLEGE SPEECH DAY

The guest of honour at Cheltenham College Speech Day on Friday was Lord Tweedsmuir, G.C.M.G., C.H., LL.D., better known as Mr. John Buchan, the famous politician and author, who was recently raised to the peerage on his appointment as Governor-General of Canada.

- 1.—Lord Tweedsmuir, the Headmaster, Lord Lee (president) and members of College Council, from left: Mr. N. A. Coghill, Brig.-Gen. F. S. G. Piggott, Mr. E. de S. H. Browne, Lord Lee of Fareham, Mr. W. D. Johnston, Lord Tweedsmuir, Mr. P. Fletcher, Rev. Dr. G. B. Allen (Bishop of Sherborne), Mr. R. V. H. Roseveare (headmaster), Rev. J. H. Kemmis, Maj. General Sir S. G. Guise-Moore, Mr. H. Reeves, Brig.-General E. C. Peebles.
- 2, 4 and 7.—Ladies in pretty summer dresses at the cricket match parade on Friday afternoon.
- 3.—A striking dark blue dress of almost puritanical cut.
- 5.—Two of the masters with an O.C.
- 6.—Mr. W. E. C. Offer (O.C.) with his mother, Mrs. R. H. Webb.
- 8.—A platoon in the march past at the O.T.C. inspection on Thursday.

CHELTENHAM COLLEGE SPEECH DAY

The weather over the week-end for the O.T.C. inspection (Thursday), Speech Day proceedings (Friday) and the Physical Training Display on Saturday was delightful, and the lady visitors were able to wear their lightest and prettiest dresses at the Garden Party on the cricket field.

- 9.—The Physical Drill display to music was admirably done by the whole College and aroused great appreciation among the spectators.
- 10.—One of the seniors making a spectacular swallow dive over the vaulting horse, "Cheltenham Chronicle" Photographs. Copies 1s. and 1s. 9d.
- 11.—Pupils watching a special drill display through an arch made by three of his comrades.
- 12.—Mrs. D. Grundy (on right) at cricket match.
- 13.—Watching the O.T.C. march past.
- 14.—The O.T.C. awaiting inspection.
- 15.—Mr. Desages (an old master at College) with Brig.-General A. W. Pagan. Behind are Canon P. M. C. Johnstone and Mr. A. C. Owen (O.C.).

PROVING THE POPULARITY OF THE FORD

An imposing array of Ford cars ready for delivery to customers by the Victory Motor Co., Winchcombe-street, Cheltenham, on Monday morning last, which shows how popular the "Ford" really is. Several other models had already been delivered during the week-end to eager owners who would not "just wait." The Models illustrated are the "Popular," "De Luxe," "The V.8," 5-cwt. van, and a Fordson Truck. The Victory Motor Co. wish to say, although there has been a wonderful demand, all models can be supplied on "immediate delivery terms" and they invite all interested to visit their showrooms. Every Enthusiastic Motorist will be Here Next Week!

★ Airflow Week

FIVE YEARS of intensive study and research by Chrysler engineers have made possible a motor-car that is as near perfection as modern motoring skill can make it. They learned that the conventional car running at 60 m.p.h. uses up to 50 per cent of its power to counter wind-resistance . . . that a conventional saloon would actually run faster if its body were taken off and reversed. Upon such data new motoring principles have been conceived . . . the principles of aero-dynamics, for a car planned on such lines gains in speed, comfort and economical operation. There are many other reasons why you should see and try the—

POLICE WEDDING IN CHELTENHAM

A wedding of particular interest in police circles took place at Cheltenham Parish Church on Saturday, when Detective Harold John Price was married to Miss Margaret Keyse. The bridegroom has been stationed in the detective force in Cheltenham for some years, and the bride is a daughter of the late Inspector Martin Keyse, formerly of Winchcombe, Cheltenham and Tewkesbury. The wedded pair leaving the church.

MR. W. L. DAVIES, the Winchcombe parish clerk and sexton, who died at his home, Gloucester-street, Winchcombe, last week, aged 67 years. He was appointed in 1916, succeeding his father, who held the office for 44 years. His love and care for the church was well known, and he was well versed in its history, and never failed to interest visitors with his story of its past.
