INTERESTING DISPLAY OF POWER AND UTILITY BY A FORDSON

This special Fordson unit has been supplied to Mr. Francis P. Parry, Timber Merchant, by The Victory Motor Co., Cheltenham's Main Ford Dealers, for the haulage of heavy tree trunks. Taken right into the woods alongside this ten-ton trunk, the Fordson with its special winch and tackle, lifted the trunk on to its limber without apparent effort, and then pulled clear of the woods to come down Ham Hill with utmost safety. This job usually takes three or four days, ten horses, and the services of several men, but the Fordson, with the aid of a couple of workmen, accomplished it in less than half a day—a tremendous saving of labour, time and money.

CHELTENHAM PATESIANS RUGBY CLUB BALL AT CHELTENHAM TOWN HALL

A rugby atmosphere prevailed in Cheltenham Town Hall on Friday evening, when the 18th annual "Pats' Rugger Ball" attracted nearly 400 dancers. The "Pats" were well supported by Rugby enthusiasts from other clubs and towns, including parties from Evesham, Pershore, Gloucester, Stroud, and Stratford.

1.—The Dance Committee.—Standing, T. Ashly, E. Jones, B. Meadows, A. V. Mills, C. Bullock, D. Barkas, J. F. Drake, K. J. Fisher. Seated,—R. Russell, Leslie Hill (chairman), E. Webb (president), E. J. Foice (hon. sec. and treasurer), C. J. Price.

FLOODS IN GLOUCESTERSHIRE

Owing to the abnormal rainfall of January the Severn has over-flowed its banks and much of the low-lying land from Tewkesbury down to below Gloucester is under water. On Sunday many motorists visited Tewkesbury and neighbourhood to witness the waste of waters.

- 1.—The fields at Bushley flooded; Tewkesbury Abbey can be seen in the distance. The scene was a very wild one, with heavy storm clouds in the sky, accompanied by gusts of wind and rain.
- 2.—A bad advertisement for riverside camping ground.
- 3.—Trying their luck in the flood waters—with very poor response!
- 4.—The private car park and fishing rights under water. It would be difficult to get tickets at the tea-stall as advertised.—The tea-stall is shown in No. 2.

INTERESTING PAINSWICK WEDDING

Nuptial Mass was celebrated at the Church of Our Lady and St. Terese, Painswick, after the wedding on Tuesday of Capt. William Arthur Usher, R.N. (retired), of Swanton Morley, Norfolk, to Miss Ursula Mary Frances Sleeman.

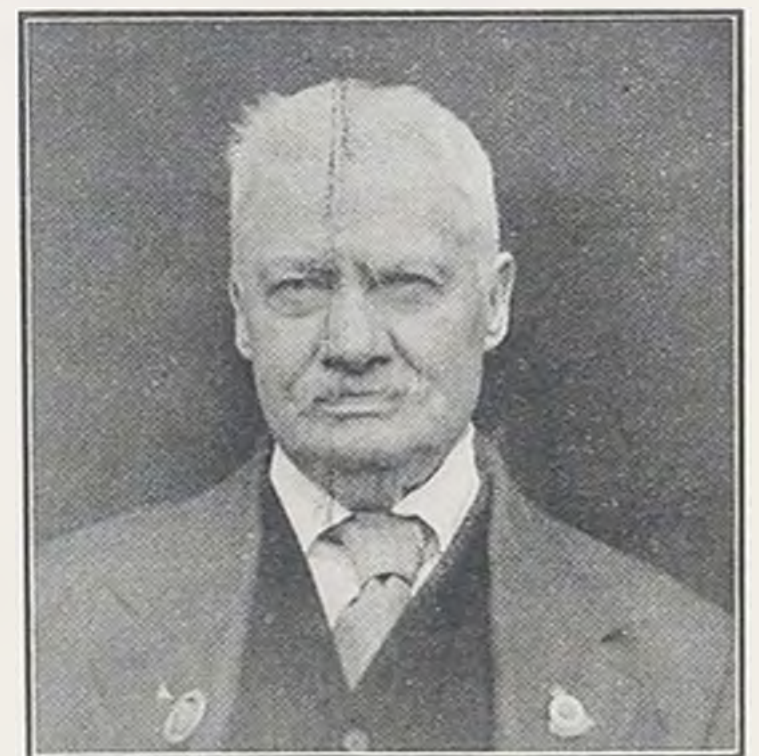

- 1.—Sergt. Smith, of Painswick, congratulates the bride.
- 2. Guests leaving church, Col. R. F. Pearson on right.
- 3. Miss Makins and Miss Waterfield.
- 4. Rev. Father Martin Harrison, O.P., Rev. Father Francis Moncrieff, O.P., and Brother Luke Turner.
- 5.—Mrs. Sleeman (mother of bride) on extreme left, Major Owen Croft (who gave bride away) on right, and guests leaving the church.

REV. C. EVELYN CHARLESWORTH, of Church House, Naunton, near Cheltenham (where he has been living in retirement), has accepted the pastorate of Leckhampton Baptist Church. He will take up his new duties on Sunday, February 7.
