BUSY CHELTENHAM FEEDING CENTRE

"The Treaford Venture" Cookhouse and Restaurant in Lansdown-road, Cheltenham, is sponsored by the W.V.S., with Miss L. M. Faithfull, C.B.E., the Hon. Canteen Adviser for Gloucestershire, at its head. It has been opened to help housewives who are doing voluntary work of national importance, and other sections of the community to whom the daily difficulties of catering have made the need for communal feeding urgent. It is the first centre of its kind.
 1. -W.V.S. workers in the kitchen. 2.- One of the tables. Miss Faithfull is standing on right (wearing hat).

AIRMAN'S WEDDING AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

The bridal party leaving St. Luke's Church, Cheltenham, after the wedding of A/C. Edward King, R.A.F., only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Nash King, of 34, Lansdown-crescent, Cheltenham, to Miss Mary Breckin, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Breckin, of St. Anne's, Mitre-street, St. Luke's, Cheltenham.

£200 FOR HIGHBURY CHURCH

QUEEN MARY VISITS CHELTENHAM PRODUCE SHOW

Cheltenham was honoured on Thursday last week by a visit from Queen Mary, who came to see the Autumn Produce Show at the Cheltenham Town Hall. She afterwards drove round the town and took tea with the Mayor and his family.

1. Queen Mary accepts a lovely bouquet of choice orchids from the Mayoress (Mrs. Stewart Billings), on her arrival at the Hall.
2. Her Majesty seated between the Mayor and Mayoress listens to a choir of local schoolchildren.
3. Queen Mary outside the Mayor's house with the Mayor and Mayoress (the latter in her A.T.S. uniform). Behind are Mrs. David Howell and Mrs. John Howell, jun.
4. Queen Mary shakes hands with one of the nurses in charge of a Queen's Messenger Food Unit.
5. Queen Mary arriving at the Mayor's home. Behind her is her equerry, Major the Hon. John Coke.

HOME GUARDS' SMART PARADE FOR ROYAL VISIT

Hundreds of people lined the Promenade and Imperial Square, Cheltenham, to catch a glimpse of Queen Mary and to give her a warm welcome. A very smart detachment of members of the Home Guard formed a guard of honour outside the Town Hall. They were headed on their march to and from the Hall by the Cheltenham College J.T.C. Band (53 strong).

6. The crowd, with the guard of honour, waiting to welcome Her Majesty outside the Town Hall. 7. Officers of the Home Guard. 8 and 11. Sections of the big crowd present. 9. The Cheltenham College Band heading the parade of the Home Guard. 10.—The Home Guard arriving. 12.—The Drum Major and Drums of Cheltenham College moving off after the Queen's arrival.

CHELTENHAM'S BIG PRODUCE SHOW

Cheltenham's Autumn Produce Show, even apart from the visit of Queen Mary, was a great success from all points of view. More than 5,000 people visited the show, and the highest praise was given to the exhibits by Mr. C. H. Middleton, the B.B.C. gardening expert, and by the judges. The money raised for the Red Cross will be a substantial amount.

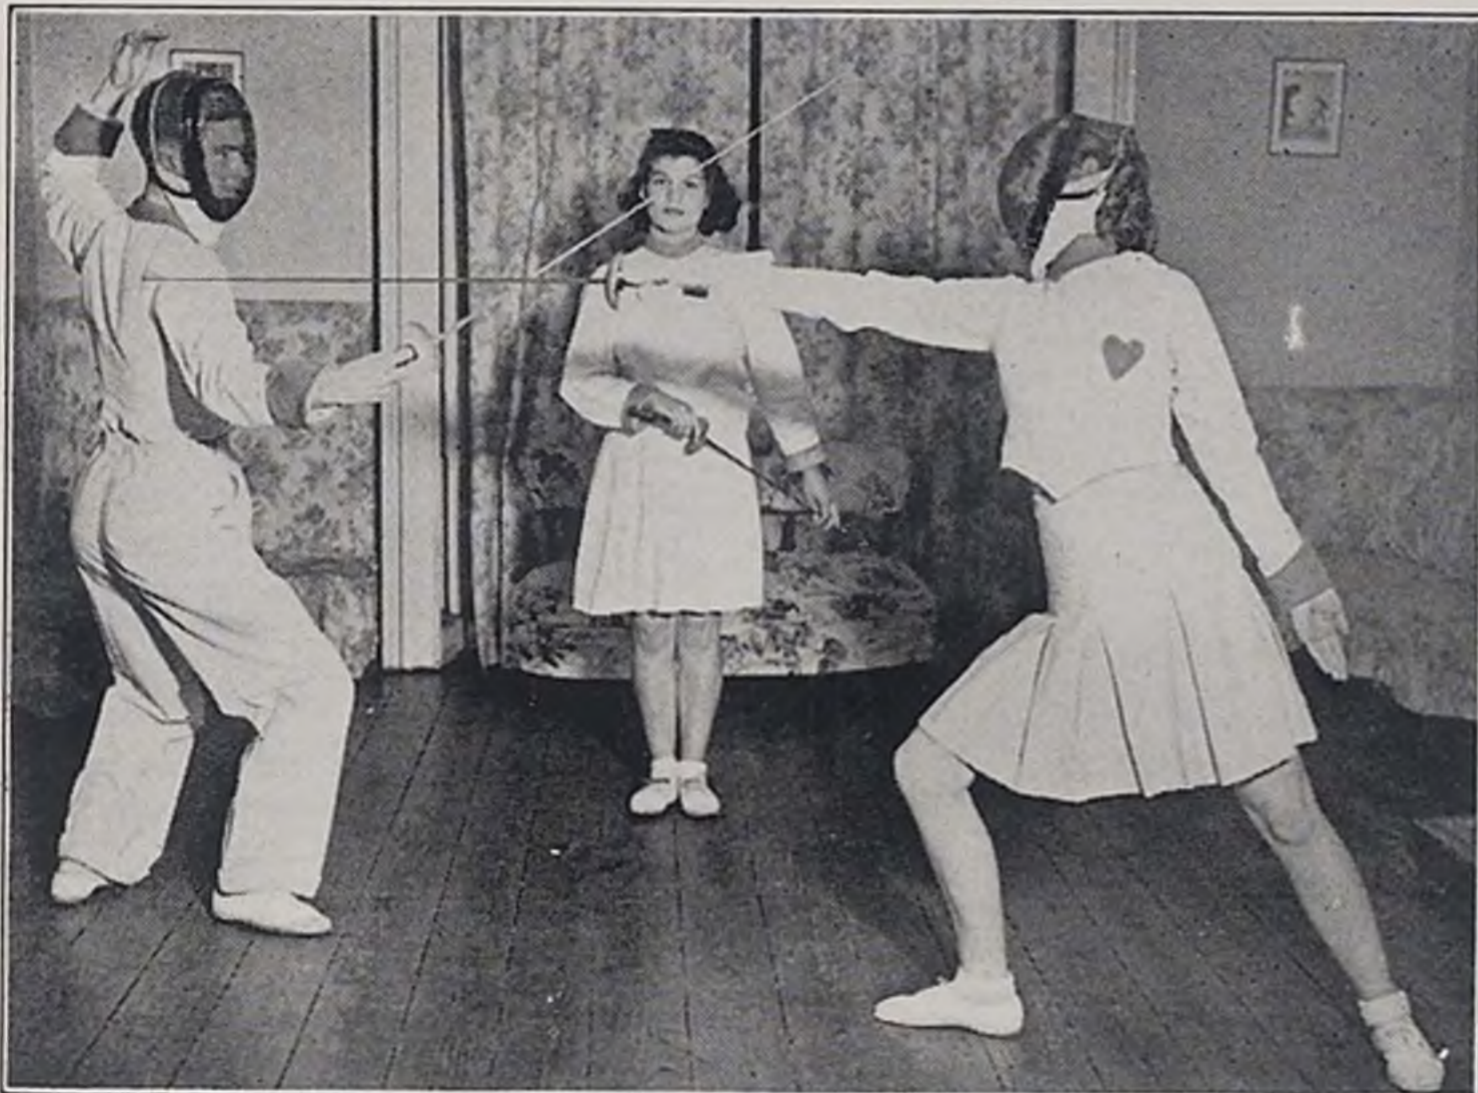

- 13.—The Mayor, Acting Mayoress, and members of the Corporation, with Mr. W. S. Morrison, M.P. (who opened the show), and officials at the opening ceremony.
 14.—Mr. C. H. Middleton examining a big pumpkin held by Mrs. E. H. Bisset (joint hon. secretary). On left is Mr. D. Leuchars, the other joint hon. secretary, and behind is Miss F. L. Carter, a judge.
 15.—Members of the public examining the exhibits.
 16.—The produce of a searchlight unit. In charge is Gunner E. Stephens, and with him is Mr. A. W. Smith, the County Horticultural Instructor. The Regiment was awarded a Gold Medal for this exhibit.

"SPEED THE TANKS" CAMPAIGN IN CHELTENHAM

One of the four columns of tanks touring the country as part of the "Speed the Tanks" campaign visited Cheltenham over the week-end. They were officially welcomed by the Mayor outside the Town Hall on Sunday afternoon, and afterwards gave an interesting and impressive display, over rough country, on Agg's Hill, before a large crowd. Large numbers of the Home Guard also took part in a defensive exercise against the tanks.

- 1. Two Valentine tanks outside the Town Hall, before proceeding to Agg's Hill.
- 2. A Valentine ascending out of a quarry on Agg's Hill.
- 3.—Members of the Home Guard interested in the tanks.
- 4. A Matilda, a heavy 25-ton tank, coming up a steep incline from a quarry.
- 5 The Mayor speaking to the crowd outside the Town Hall from one of the tanks.
